5 Children Killed In Truck Crash

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) — Five children were reported killed and 66 injured Friday in the crash of a flat bed truck loaded with Berkeley YMCA youngsters returning from a Santa Cruz beach outing.

Highway patrol officers said the driver lost control and the truck overturned in a ditch between the divided lanes of Highway 17 near the General Motors plant in Fremont.

Ambulances carried the injured to three hospitals in San Jose and Washington Township Hospital in Fremont. A witness told the Hayward Review that children were scattered over a wide area around the wrecked truck. A highway patrol officer said at least 20 injured were taken to Washington Township Hospital. Two victims were dead on arrival there.

Three were reported dead at O'Connor Hospital in San Jose.

Ten injured were admitted at San Jose Hospital and six at Alexian Hospital at San Jose.

The South Berkeley YMCA said there were seven counselors and 62 children on the truck. One of the counselors was driving the vehicle. All were participants in the Summer Fun Club and enrolled in the last of four two-week sessions. The group, with children ranging from 6 to 12 years, left Berkeley Friday morning for the day long outing at Santa Cruz Beach and were homeward bound at the time of the accident. The club made a tour every Friday in a truck obtained from a rental agency. The club is a city-wide program for both members and non-members.

Rarick Announces He Is Candidate For Office Of Governor

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., announced his candidacy for governor Friday night, telling a wildly applauding crowd here "We are going to take the LBJ brand off the state of Louisiana."

The freshman congressman from Louisiana's 6th District won his present seat a year ago, from longtime congressman James H. Morrison, who had been a friend of the administration of President Johnson.

Rarick challenges Gov. John J. McKeithen in the Nov. 4. Democratic Primary.

McKeithen made political history when he won a 70 per cent vote for a constitutional amendment that allowed him to try to succeed himself for a four-year term.

Some political observers have said Rarick was the last chance for a major contender against the popular McKeithen.

Rarick, 43, said, "Our people are entitled to an adversary election to choose their chief executive—our constitutional form of government demands the right of our people to vote—issues must be added and discussed — the past administration's direction and record must be talked over.

"You the people of Louisiana have the right to a choice. If you are satisfied and want four more years of the same, approve it—but if you are dissatisfied, you may reject it.

"But an election requires at least two candidates and many have turned to me. This has not been an easy decision and I am thankful to the thousands of you who have given me the benefit of your feelings. For it was you, the people, who made the choice to send me to Washington as a voice to express your concern and vote for you. This, I have done and will continue to do.

"But the question arose of whether you who had fought so hard to gain a victory intended to stop fighting and become defensive — to be satisfied with what progress we have made. Or, did you start out to do a job and intend to keep moving forward.

"I concluded that the people did not elect me personally, but rather views and solutions in a common hope we could save our country and restore sanity to our land.

"After thoughtful deliberation, prayer, I could but resolve that as your chief executive in Baton Rouge, we can best continue to speak out on the problems of good government—law and order—and to work to help our people.

"The strength of our country is not in men or individual leaders, but with you, the people. Our future as free Americans rests in your homes, your churches and with your children. Louisiana is our home and must remain free and independent in leadership.

"In the weeks ahead I hope to bring to you the problems that we must overcome and the solutions that I offer. I hope that you will join the campaign. I need and ask your vote, but I also need your labor, your help and your prayers."

Several hundred persons at the rally cheered Rarick's statement loudly, then pressed forward to shake his hand.

Rarick's statement about taking the Johnson brand off Louisiana came during off-the-cuff remarks after he finished reading his statement before television cameras.

The race between Rarick and Morrison was one of the most bitter on record in Louisiana.

Rarick campaigned with the slogan, "For God and Constitution," and he accused Morrison of being the "black power candidate."

Morrison countered with an accusation in a House speech that Rarick was a member of the Ku Klux Klan and had been elected Klan exalted cyclops. Rarick has filed a slander suit that still is in the courts.

A native of Goshen, Ind., Rarick came to Louisiana during World War II as an Army trainee. He was decorated for service in Europe, was captured in the Battle of the Bulge, and spent four months in a German prisoner of war camp.

He returned here, and in 1945 married Marguerite Pierce. They have three children, Johnny, 18, Cherie, 16, and Laura Lee, 14.

Rarick, who had attended Ball State College in Muncie, Ind., studied pre-law at Louisiana State University and took his law degree at Tulane University.

He practiced law in St. Francisville, and won a state district judgeship, from which post he launched his campaign against Morrison and won his congressional seat.

Since that victory, the sixth congressional district boundary line has been redrawn to exclude West Feliciana Parish, in which St. Francisville is located.

U.S. Planes In Massive Air Strikes

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes, perhaps 600 strong, blanketed North Vietnam with a record 197 attack missions Thursday by Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots.

It was the largest number of missions in the air war that began Feb. 7, 1965, with raids by 49 U.S. Navy jets on military installations of a single North Vietnamese town—Dong Hoi, 40 miles north of the border.

In South Vietnam, U.S. B52 bombers pounded Communist positions near A Shau Friday and guerrilla gunners struck Saturday at the Nha Be naval base just south of Saigon. Ground fighting remained light, with no significant contact reported by the U.S. Command.

Damage at the naval base was described as "slight" after enemy gunners fired eight recoilless rifle shells. A Navy spokesman said all but two rounds fell in the water. No casualties were reported.

The B52s flew four missions in South Vietnam, striking once at a training center and tunnel complex in Long Khanh province, 50 miles northeast of Saigon.

Three B52 missions over A Shau, near the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon, were aimed at enemy base camps, storage areas and fortifications.

What was once a U.S. Special Forces (Green Beret) outpost at A Shau is now a bomb-cratered moonscape. The area has come under almost daily bombing since the camp was overrun by North Vietnamese early last year.

A Shau, just 62 miles west of the big American base at Da Nang, is the first of many enemy concentration points in South Vietnam on the Ho Chi Minh Trail from the north. Intelligence sources report that big flat-bed semitrailers capable of hauling tons of weapons have been spotted in the A Shau Valley recently.

The U.S. Command confirmed that an ammunition-loaded C7 Caribou transport was accidentally shot down by American artillery Thursday as it approached a Special Forces camp west of Quang Ngai City. The plane's three crewmen were killed.

Governor Called In Andrews Trial

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)— Gov. John J. McKeithen and 37 others were subpoenaed as defense witnesses Friday for the upcoming perjury trial of former Jefferson Parish Attorney Dean A. Andrews Jr.

The Orleans Parish Grand jury subpoenaed the witnesses in connection with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's investigation into the assassination of President Kennedy.

Garrison and five of his assistants, members of the grand jury, and members of Truth and Consequences Inc., a group helping to finance the probe were also subpoenaed.

The list also included Perry Raymond Russo, James R. Lewellen, Alvin Beauboeuf and Vernon Bundy, all figures in the Garrison investigation.

Russo testified New Orleans businessman Clay L. Shaw was the man he heard conspire with Lee Harvey Oswald and the late David Ferrie to kill Kennedy.

Layton Martins, another figure in the probe, said Russo could have possibly mistaken Oswald for Lewellen. Both Martins and Lewellen were roommates of Ferrie at different times.

Bundy testified at a preliminary hearing that he saw Shaw give Oswald some money early one morning near Lake Pontchartrain.

Beauboeuf, another of Ferrie's roommates, has said that two of Garrison's investigators threatened him if he did not "fill in the facts" about the investigation.

Senate Committee Okays $70 Billion Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Friday a $70-billion Defense Department money bill—including a $63-million item to permit the Navy to buy seven British-made minesweepers.

In one of scores of changes it made in the House-passed bill, the committee eliminated an amendment, adopted on the House floor, which would ban U.S. purchase of any foreign-built warships.

The total as approved by the committee is $1.4 billion below what President Johnson asked and $139 million less than voted by the House when it passed the bill June 13.

But committee members conceded that the newly announced buildup of forces in Vietnam makes it certain that it will be necessary to add later to the $20 billion earmarked for the Southeast Asian conflict.

CUT REQUEST

The total was $1.4 billion below President Johnson's budget requests and about $139 million less than the House approved when it passed the biggest annual money bill June 13.

The Senate committee total of $70,156,420,000 was lower than the $70,229,622,000 congress voted in the last fiscal year for the same activities. Additions probably will be required later in supplemental requests as they were during the last fiscal year.

As did the House, the Senate committee cut deeply into the scores of individual items for the vast defense establishment and added to others.

The allotments include these shares for major defense agencies: Army $22,730,303,000; Navy and Marine Corps $19,711,850,000; Air Force $23,990,545,000 and defense agencies $3,724,722,000.

One major reduction made by the House and accepted by the Senate panel was $300 million asked by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to build a fleet of fast deployment logistic (FDL) ships and another $166 million for additional destroyers for the navy.

FLOATING ARSENAL

The FDL vessels are proposed as floating arsenals and supply depots to have fighting equipment at hand wherever troops may be sent.

The Senate panel also reduced to $115 million a request to build F111D aircraft for the Navy. This is the Navy version of the controversial TFX aircraft which McNamara wants for use by all the armed services.

The administration asked $287 million for Navy purchases of the new aircraft and the House allowed $208 million.

The big bill now moves to the Senate for probable action next week.

The Senate committee made several changes in the large functional items in the bill.

It reduced military personnel funds $146 million below the $21.97 billion voted by the House, which was $73 million under the budget.

It added $141 million to the House total of $18.994 billion for operation and maintenance, which was $382 below the budget.

It cut $174 million below the $22.261 billion for procurement voted by the House, which was $655 million under the budget.

And it added $40 million to the House total of $7.101 billion for research, development, test and evaluation, which was $171 million below the budget.

Widely Scattered Showers Seen

Partly cloudy and warm today through Sunday with widely scattered thundershowers is the weather forecast for Monroe and vicinity. The low tonight is expected to be between 72 and 77 and the high today is expected to be between 90 and 96.

The dewpoint is expected to be in the 70's Patchy moderate dew is predicted for tonight drying off around 10 a.m. Sunday. There is a 20 per cent probability of rain today and Sunday. Near 50 per cent sunshine is expected today and Sunday. Winds are forecast to be variable 5 to 15 mp.h.

In the Twin Cities Friday, FAA at Selman Field recorded a high of 94 and a low of 73. No rain was reported in the area by the agency, although unofficially traces were observed.

Eighty-Two Million Will Pay Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department said Friday about 82 million individual taxpayers would pay more money to Uncle Sam under the 10 per cent surcharge plan sent to a generally cool Congress by President Johnson.

Only 16 million taxpayers in the two lowest brackets—those paying 14 to 15 per cent tax rates—would escape the surcharge which is actually a tax levied on a tax and not on a person's basic income.

Americans would feel a new tax squeeze with their first paychecks after Oct. 1 if Congress adopts the plan recommended by Johnson. That's when the Treasury plans to step up tax withholding from paychecks to reflect the surcharge if Congress goes along.

For corporations, the surcharge would be retroactive to last July 1.

Officials said the same amount of added revenue—$4 billion from the individual surcharge through next June 30—would result if basic tax rates were raised 10 per cent.

But this latter method would destroy the temporary nature of the plan emphasized by Johnson and create more administrative headaches in collecting the tax. It would, for example, result in fractional rates such as raising the 19 per cent tax bracket to 20.9 per cent.

Basic tax rates on individuals now range from 14 to 70 per cent while the corporate tax rate is 48 per cent.

Most of the 82 million individuals affected by the proposed surcharge would be husbands and wives who file joint returns.

Of the 82 million taxpayers expected to pay more under the surchare plan would be 17 million single persons and 65 million married ones filing joint returns, the Treasury said. It added that of the 16 million taxpayers who would be exempt from the surcharge, 5 million are single and 11 million are married.

In money terms, these taxpayers would be exempt:

—Single persons who pay $145 or less in taxes a year.

—Married persons filing joint returns who pay $290 or less.

—Heads of households who pay $220 or less.

Figured another way, the Treasury said, the exemption would apply to all single persons with taxable incomes of $1,000 or less and all married persons with taxable incomes of $2,000 or less. Taxable income consists of total income minus deductions and exemptions.

Since the surcharge as proposed would be effective only for three months of calendar 1967, the rate would be 2.5 per cent of a person's tax for the entire year.

Corporations generally would pay $2.3 billion extra under the surcharge through next June 30.

For the fiscal year which begins next July 1, the surcharge would produce $7 billion in revenues from individuals and $2.5 billion from corporations, Treasury officials said.

OEO Man Denies Hate School Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An antipoverty official denied before Senate investigators Friday that federal funds were used to operate a "hate whitey" school in Tennessee. Earlier, the senators were told that antipoverty workers helped agitate the Newark riots.

The Rev. J. Paschall Davis, chairman of an antipoverty program in Nashville, Tenn., denied that federal money was going to a "liberation school" which a Nashville policeman said taught young Negroes to hate white persons.

Police Capt. John A. Sorace told the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday that it was common knowledge in Nashville that the school was operated by funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

After listening to the conflicting testimony, Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he agreed with Sorace.

"I believe the captain told the truth," Eastland said. "I think the testimony supports Mr. Sorace."

But Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., disagreed and supported Davis.

Davis is chairman of Nashville's Metropolitan Action Committee (MAC), which is largely supported by federal money.

He conceded that the director of the liberation school, the chairman of Nashville's Student Non-violent Coordinating Commitee (SNCC), was driving a station wagon leased by MAC. He also said that the church where the school is located is conducting a series of summer programs for MAC.

Davis said that the contract with the church was signed July 24, but that no money will be paid to it until it stops operating the school.

He added that the name of the Nashville SNCC chairman, Fred H. Brooks, the school director, had been submitted on the summer program application at $300 a month, but that he had never received any money.

"You would have paid it if it weren't for this hearing," Eastland said.

As for the station wagon, Davis said, "We made a mistake in delivering the station wagon to Mr. Brooks. But it was a little mistake."

Counterfeiter Burns $70,000 Bogus Bundle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A conscience-stricken counterfeiter burned $70,000 in beautiful bogus money in the incinerator of the swank Mark Hopkins Hotel, but his partner made off with an additional $30,000. U.S. District Court was told Friday.

Secret Service agent Robert Newbrand testified to a fantastic sequence of plotting and sleuthing that spanned the nation over a period of nearly two years and is still in progress. One gifted but slippery participant remains at large.

Samuel S. Gonzales, 42, now a U.S. Government Printing Office printer, was placed on five years' probation by District Judge George B. Harris for making the money.

Wilson T. Airey, 43, a New Jersey commercial artist, is being sought on a fugitive warrant. He was first arrested last October in San Francisco, jumped $5,000 bail, was rearrested April 20 in Trenton, N.J., and jumped $25,000 bail.

Gonzales, after getting out of the Navy at the end of World War II, went to work for the U.S. Forest Service as a printer. After 18 years, he drew on his retirement pay and started a print shop in San Francisco.

Here is the story from then on as reconstructed from testimony by Newbrand, the Secret Service agent:

Business was poor. Gonzales happened to meet Airey in January, 1966, while delivering menus to a Tenderloin District cafe.

Airey offered him $12,000 if he would print $100,000 in $10 bills from plates to be supplied by Airey.

Airey, calling the next morning to pick it up, argued with Gonzales and rode with him to the Mark Hopkins Hotel atop Nob Hill.

There Gonzalez stored the box of bills for two days until a hotel engineer friend was on duty alone. Gonzales and the engineer then burned the bills in the trash burner without counting them.

They did not realize that Airey had slipped $30,000 out of the box while riding to the hotel.

Two months later a finely-made bogus $10 bill came to the attention of the Secret Service in San Francisco. In quick succession, others were passed in Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, New Orleans, Atlantic City, Denver and Seattle.

Posing as a dealer, agent Newbrand bought it for $400 in real money. He testified he learned, over a period of months, that Gonzales had been the printer and that Airey now had a new set of $20 plates.

Newbrand offered to find a reliable printer. The result was that the plates were seized and Gonzales and Airey were arrested.

Gonzales, who meanwhile had gotten a job with the federal Government Printing Office in San Francisco, pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to a counterfeiting charge.

THIS IS THE classroom at St. Anselms Episcopal Church in Nashville where a "Liberation School" for elementary age Negro children is conducted — with federal funds, according to Senate testimony. Federal Inspector Visits Nashville 'Hate School'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Under the watchful eyes of a federal inspector, Negroes softened their theme and admitted white observers Friday to a "Liberation School" which senators were told teaches hatred of the white man.

But reaction to a Nashville police officer's testimony before a Senate committee continued to explode on many fronts with contradictory statements, records and testimony over the aims and ends of the antipoverty project which is designed for children 6 to 12.

Police Capt. John A. Sorace told the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington Thursday that the Office of Economic Opportunity is financing the Liberation School which he said teaches "pure, unadulterated hatred for the white race."

There were these developments Friday:

—Harry Carpenter of the OEO Inspection Office in Washington rushed to Nashville to investigate Sorace's charges. He refused comment.

—Newsmen were allowed to watch 34 Negro pupils at the school as they gave a dramatic interpretation of a pre-Civil War "underground railroad" used by slaves to escape to the North.

—Frank W. Sloan, Atlanta regional director of OEO, denied that federal funds are being used to promote racial hatred. He branded Sorace's testimony "basically false." —The Rev. J. Paschall Davis, chairman of Nashville's Metropolitan Action Commission, said his agency has not yet financed the school because personnel have not been investigated. He said MAC and OEO had approved the project.

Antipoverty officials disagreed on the role played by Fred H. Brooks, a 20-year-old black power advocate who identified himself as director of ing his past year at Tennessee A&I State University as Nashville chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He said the chapter does not operate during the summer.

Bill Davis, director of MAC, said Brooks is only a volunteer worker at the school. Sloan, however, said Brooks has not been approved for the post of director.

However, MAC payroll records at Metropolitan Courthouse, listed Brooks as director at a $300 salary. Records indicated the payroll is scheduled to be funded Aug. 28.

Brooks also signed—on behalf of MAC—for a leased station wagon used in the antipoverty program.

Others listed on the payroll include Miss Philippa A.Thompson, a Negro student at Fisk University who introduced then-SNCC Chairman Stokely Carmichael at Fisk in April.

aj-dg421pcd Aug. 4

Meanwhile pupils at the school continued their three-times-a-week routine—studying the Negro's role in history, learning mathematics, working with paints and swimming.

Brooks said Thursday the school teaches "the historical fact that whites came to Africa and viciously enslaved many of the great African people. If the history of their past leads them to hate white people, that's not our responsibility."

He told newsmen Friday, however, that the school teaches neither hate nor violence.

Brooks, a Detroit native, said a day earlier that no white man would be allowed to enter the school. However, he told newsmen Friday that the school is open to children of all races.

The school operates in St. Anselm's Episcopal Chapel in Nashville's Negro college area.

And, the Rev. James Woodruff, rector of St. Anselm's, vowed that the Liberation School will continue to operate, even if Sorace's testimony leads to a cutoff of federal funds. "We'll get funds from somewhere," he said.

As newsmen watched, pupils ended their interpretation of the underground railroad, sang freedom songs and left the chapel to ride across town to four private swimming pools.

No discussions were held in the presence of newsmen.

The small chapel, marked by a large crucifix, contains a rack of tracts spelling out the Episcopal doctrine.

Little Traffic Problem

BERLIN (AP) — One East German in 24 owns a car. Reporting this, East Germany's 1967 statistical book said the number of new auto registrations declined to 60,000 last year, 20,000 below the 1965 level. A total of 721,000 cars are registered in the country.

Burial will follow in Forest Park Cemetery under direction of Osborn Funeral Home of Shreveport.

Survivors include four children, Helen, 20; Virginia, 17; Kathryn, 10; and Henry B. Clay Jr., 7, all of Shreveport.

Mr. Clay is also survived by his mother, Mrs. A. M. Williamson of Atlanta, Ga.; four brothers, James P. Clay, William S. Clay and Malcolm Clay, all of Atlanta, and John W. Clay, Nashville, Tenn; four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Cron, Mrs. Mary Caglson, Mrs. Beulah Ross and Mrs. Norma Ray, all of Atlanta.

Mrs. Clay, 44, is also survived by a brother, John D. Ewing Jr., Shreveport, and an uncle, Robert Ewing Jr., New Orleans, chairman of the board of the News-Star — World Publishing Corp. and The Shreveport Times, and an aunt, Mrs. Wilson Ewing, Monroe, vice-president of the News-Star — World Publishing Corp.

Mrs. Clay was the daughter of the late John D. Ewing, who was publisher of the Shreveport Times until his death in 1952 and a board member of the News-Star—World Publishing Corp. He published the News-Star and Morning World from 1929 until 1938.

Her mother was the late former Helen Hamilton Gray.

Mrs. Clay was also a niece of the late Wilson Ewing, publisher of the Monroe Morning World and News-Star from 1938 until his death in 1952.

The couple left Shreveport Thursday en route to Canada. Their Beechcraft Bonanza, ripped apart by turbulence or an explosion, plunged out of low - hanging clouds and fell, in pieces, on a 20-acre farm.

Herman J. Reyenga, chief of the radar approach control facility of the Federal Aviation Agency at Barksdale Air Force Base, suggested that the aircraft might have been hit by lightning.

Reyenga, a personal friend of Clay, emphasized his comment was unofficial and nothing more than a guess.

"Knowing Clay as I did, I can't believe at this time that he lost control of his airplane," said Reyenga.

He recalled a similar crash at Waskom, Tex., about four years ago in which FAA investigators found that the craft had been hit by lightning and exploded while flying in the vicinity of thunderstorms.

Reyenga recalled personal experiences in which lightning had burned small holes through wings or tail surfaces of aircraft he was flying.

Witnesses said the plane was breaking up as it came out of low-hanging clouds, while several reported hearing an explosion.

State police said the wreckage was scattered over a half-mile area, some two miles west of Nevada, Mo.

Mrs. Clay's grandfather, the late Robert Ewing, was founder of the Monroe Morning World and was publisher of the Shreveport Times from 1908 until 1931 when her late father became publisher.

Red China Violence Is Spreading

TOKYO (AP) — Armed opposition to Mao Tse-tung has spread from the industrial complex of Wuhan to such important cities as Nanking, Shanghai and the World War II capital of Chungking, reports from Red China said Saturday.

Czechoslovakia's news agency CTK quoted a wall newspaper as saying clashes between Maoists and anti-Maoists erupted in Chungking, in central China, several days ago and were continuing. The report said the anti-Mao forces were armed with artillery sent from Wuhan.

The Japanese newspaper Asahi quoted wall posters as saying farmers were threatening to march through coastal Kiangsu province and lay siege to Shanghai and Nanking.

A Maoist Shanghai newspaper indicated opponents of the Communist party chairman were spreading disorder in the big port and industrial city, starting armed clashes, attacking Red Guards, stealing state funds and molesting women in the streets, the Peking correspondent of Japan's Yomiuri Shimbun reported.

Asahi also told of armed clashes in Szechwan province near Chungking.

Some reports said militiamen were supplying anti-Maoists with arms.

Two weeks ago the Maoist leadership was reported to have been forced to send paratroopers and warships to deal with organized rebellion in Wuhan, a three-city central China industrial complex on the Yangtze River.

As if forcing a showdown, Mao's backers staged the biggest rally in weeks in Peking Friday demanding that President Liu Shao-chi, No. 1 target of Mao's purge, be dragged before a mass criticism session.

Yank, Pub Bound After Solo Sail

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI) — A 37-year-old bachelor from Houston, Tex., calmly moored his 22 foot yacht Friday after sailing alone across the Atlantic and headed for the nearest "pub."

Downing his first pint of English beer, William Wallace said he had had a perfect trip from Marion, Mass.

"I slept every night, had plenty to eat and there was no damage to the boat," he said. "In fact, it was almost dull."

RETIRED LT. GEN. James M. Gavin, a former U.S. ambassador to France, has resigned from the Massachusetts Democratic Advisory Council because of his opposition of the Vietnam situation. Gavin Quits Political Group Over Viet Policy

BOSTON (UPI)—Gen. James M. Gavin, former top Pentagon adviser, confirmed Friday that he had resigned from the Massachusetts Democratic Advisory Council because of his opposition of the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy. But he denied that he would become a Republican "peace" candidate for president.

In his letter of resignation, the general said, "The news today of the widespread burning, rioting and looting in our cities makes it obvious that we have been misdirecting our resources and energies to Southeast Asia for the past five years when we should have been taking care of our domestic problems at home.

"Under these circumstances, therefore, I cannot possibly support the Democratic party in the presidential election of 1968 if it adheres to its present Southeast Asian policy."

Gavin, who is chief executive of the Cambridge-based research firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc., said he "simply will not support President Johnson for re-election in 1968."

Gavin, ex-chief of the Army's research and development program and former ambassador to France, denied rumors about possible political ambitions and said he had "no intention" of becoming a GOP "peace" aspirant for the presidential nomination. He also denied that he had given his approval to a movement to sound out various business leaders as to his chances in a national election.

In 1912, the U.S. won the Olympic Games, led by Jim Thorpe.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Recruits for Sweden's army are taller and have fewer illnesses than draftees at the turn of the century, says the army's top doctor, but they're also weaker and in "depressing" physical condition. Gustav Hesselblad says the comforts of modern life are to blame. He says improvement in the condition of recruits is imperative because "they cannot bring their cars into war."

Tugwell, 77 Quits State Treasury Job

BATON ROUGE (AP)—State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, 77, said Friday he will step down at the end of his eighth term next May after 32 years in the post.

The announcement signaled a scramble for the $14,800-a-year statewide elective post.

The list of candidates expected to seek the job of state treasurer included Mrs. Mary Evelyn Parker, state commissioner of administration; J. B. Lancaster, state legislative auditor; State Sen. Howard Joseph, and Jimmy Fontenot, assistant state comptroller.

Tugwell has become a legend in state government since the late O. K. Allen brought him to the State Highway Department in 1929 to serve as auditor during the administration of the late Huey P. Long.

I have seldom taken time off for being sick," Tugwell said in an interview. "I was in one automobile accident not too long ago that put me in the hospital for a while."

Asked why he was letting it be known that he would not seek re-election to a ninth consecutive term in the Nov. 4 Democratic primary, Tugwell said:

"If I were elected to another term, I would be 81 by the time I served it, and you know at that age you can break quickly. I'm fine now, but I wouldn't want to be in a position that I could not serve."

Before entering state service, Tugwell was treasurer of the old Tremont and Gulf Railroad Co., which at that time operated a 100-mile-long "class one" line in Louisiana.

Tugwell spent 7½ years in the State Highway Department, finally serving as Highway Board chairman.

In 1936, he began his first term as elective State Treasurer. In recent years his opposition has been only nominal.

Man Slays Youth Over Girl's Date

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An irate father shot and killed a young high school dropout Friday because, he told police, the boy had kept his teen-aged daughter out all night on a date.

The victim, Billy Ray Williams, 16, died of a pistol bullet wound in the head.

Police charged J. W. Shipwash, 43, and his wife with murder in the slaying. Bond for each was set at $10,000.

Detective Chief Bernard Waggoner Sr. said investigating officers pieced together this story:

Georgia Ann Shipwash, the Shipwashes' 15-year-old daughter, slipped out of the family home Thursday night for a date with young Williams.

The parents, upset because of their daughter's failure to return home, got into their car about 7:30 a.m. and went in search of the young couple.

They soon spotted the pair walking along a street. Shipwash got out of the car and shot the boy.

When police arrived at the scene, Shipwash cried: "God, have mercy on my soul. I've killed the boy."

Shipwash told police he "just wanted to scare the boy."

Young Williams' mother, Mrs. L. W. Williams, said her son and the Shipwash girl had been dating about a year. She said he dropped out of high school during his sophomore year.

Two Brothers Tried For Riot Sniping

DETROIT (AP) — Two brothers captured as snipers during Detroit's racial violence last week were ordered today to stand trial for assault with intent to kill.

The pair — Y. T. Morrison, 37, and O. B. Morrison, 23 — had been held under $200,000 bond each since they were arrested July 4 outside a police precinct station.

Recorder's Court Judge Frank G. Schemanske reduced their bonds to $50,000 in cash after their attorney pointed out that each of the Morrisons is married and holds a job. They are Negroes.

Conviction on the charge could lead to a sentence of life imprisonment.

Monroe Morning World

Saturday, August 5, 1967 Four-A

Henry Clay, Helen Clay

The almost instant deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay, in the crash of their light, private plane in Missouri, came as a great shock to citizens of two cities in particular—Monroe and Shreveport—and to those of the state and nation as a whole.

Almost inconceivable before and almost unbelievable afterward, the tragedy snuffed out the lives of two of north Louisiana's most prominent and acceptable citizens. It orphaned four children.

At one moment, two persons were flying happily to a Canadian vacation, unaware of any serious danger ahead. In another moment the plane disintegrated in the air and both persons were dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay were members of the board of directors of the Monroe Morning World and Monroe News-Star; The Shreveport Times and the International Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of KWKH in Shreveport. In addition, Mr. Clay was a vice president and member of the board of directors of the Arkansas Television Company, licensee of television Station KTHV, Little Rock, Ark.

Mr. Clay was a pilot of continuous experience, starting with World War II. He was well known for the careful, capable manner in which he planned his flights. He had been known to delay a trip for a period of time simply because he lacked a late and complete weather report from some perhaps obscure point in his itinerary. His ability to handle a plane under adverse conditions was remarkable.

Yet, death came instantly and unexpectedly to him and to Mrs. Clay in a most unusual and almost unexplainable way—disintegration of the plane itself, according to eyewitnesses, in flight.

Mr. Clay and Mrs. Clay were outstanding in the civic, cultural and social life of the Shreveport area. Mr. Clay was one of the true leaders in Shreveport's business and economic growth and expansion during his 20 years as a Shreveporter. He was current president of the United Fund, twice president of the Chamber of Commerce, past commander of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion and a member of the Legion's National Committee. He had headed or been one of the outstanding leaders in a host of civic campaigns. Mr. Clay was executive vice-president and general manager of Radio Station KWKH at the time of his death. He had been chairman of the National Broadcasters Association and a member of its board, as well as a member of the board of the Louisiana Broadcasters Association, which named him "Broadcaster of the Year" in 1965.

Mr. Clay a native of Atlanta, Ga. was a dynamic personality. As a youth, he delivered newspapers and worked during the summers to finance himself through Vanderbilt University, where he was graduated cum laude in 1941. He taught boxing and tumbling at Vanderbilt as a further means of earning his way and won the Southern Golden Gloves championship. He went into the Navy as an enlisted man in World War II and became an officer, serving with distinction in various battles in the Pacific as well as on convoys to Russia. He later transferred to the air branch of the Navy and won his wings at Pensacola, Fla.

Mr. Clay married Helen Mae Ewing of Shreveport, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ewing in 1945. Mr. Ewing was publisher of The Shreveport Times until his death in 1962, and a member of the board of directors of the News-Star — World Publishing Corporation as well as Radio Station KWKH. He was publisher of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World from 1929 until 1938.

Mrs. Clay was also the niece of Robert Ewing Jr. of New Orleans, chairman of the board of the News-Star—World Publishing Corp. and The Shreveport Times; of Mrs. Wilson Ewing of Monroe, vice president of the News-Star—World Publishing Corp. and of the late Wilson Ewing, publisher of the Monroe Morning World and News-Star from 1938 until his death in 1952.

Mrs. Clay was born in Shreveport and was a graduate of Byrd High School. She attended Sweetbriar College, Gulfpark College and then Wellesley. She formerly was president of the Junior League and served on its board several times. She was on the board of the St. Mark's Day School for several years and a member of the Board of Women of St Mark's. She also was a director of the Holiday in Dixie Cotillion Board, a director of the Americanism Forum, and a member of the Demoiselle Club and the Colonial Dames. She worked repeatedly with Goodwill Industries and the United Fund and at one time was chairman for the Institute of Public Relations for the National Conference of Christians and Jews. In fact, there was little that took place in the past 20 years in business, social, economic and cultural life of Shreveport and North Louisiana in which either Mr. Clay or Mrs. Clay, or both, were not a part.

Everyone who knew Henry and Helen Clay admired, respected, and loved them. The sympathy of everyone connected with the Monroe Morning World, Monroe News-Star and the Shreveport Times and its various affiliates, and of the entire area, goes forth to the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Clay and to their surviving relatives. It is difficult to believe that two persons so much a part of the entire area, and still in the prime of life, so suddenly have been taken away. It will be even more difficult to fill the gap in the hearts of many which their death has created.

Prosecuting Juveniles

We fully believe that most juveniles are just as good as their parents and that they will become citizens as good as their parents. Yet, among the juveniles, there is a lawless element for which we hold no brief, just as we want no defense for those who use the race issue as an excuse for crime. Outlaws among juveniles, particularly those who have shown themselves to be of a vicious nature, or repeaters, should be punished as surely as the criminals, looters and burners among the racial agitators.

Juvenile shoplifting is a gigantic business for which all of us are paying. Between 70 and 80 per cent of all shoplifters caught in the United States are under 18 years of age.

This year more than a billion dollars in merchandise will be taken. Since merchants are unable to stand this loss, they must either charge higher prices or sell vastly more goods to make it up. What the country loses in stolen merchandise the earners must pay for. Every time an item is stolen, you can figure you will have to pay your portion of what it costs.

Strangely enough, only about 10 per cent of the juveniles caught shoplifting are from low income families. This belies the claim that juveniles steal and commit other violations because of poverty. The same is true, of course, of the looters and burners. In the Detroit debacle, in a city noted for giving work to Negroes, it was found that most of the looters were not among poverty - stricken families. Many of them were working at jobs provided by the government.

Shoplifting has become such a big "business" that stores which previously did not prosecute juveniles now simply do so because they cannot afford not to.

It is a nearly indisputable fact that anyone who steals and gets by with it will continue to steal. He will stop only when apprehended and prosecuted and put behind bars or is so afraid that will happen that he is "persuaded" to change his ways.

Senator Soaper Says

Cousin Fuseloyle thinks it is sheer arrogance for the golf authorities to dictate what kind of a putter a man should use. Next, he fears, they'll start interfering in the size of the rinks at the 19th hole.

King Aims Blows At Congress

Plans To Make It Scapegoat For Big Riots

IN SINGLING OUT Congress as their principal scapegoat for the big city riots, militant civil rights leaders are setting their sights on obtaining more than massive federal funds for the Negro ghettos and job training programs.

The attacks against Congress spearheaded by Dr. Martin Luther King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Bayard Rustin, executive director of A. Philip Randolph Institute, are part of an overall campaign to establish a political "third force" by 1968.

Immediate objectives, which will be advanced by demonstrations and mass meetings here this fall, are to drive a deep wedge between Congress and the other two branches of government and to develop a multiparty system.

LONG RANGE GOALS of King and Rustin are to use the proposed "third force" as a political movement to bring about basic changes.

In telephone calls around the country, King and Rustin outlined these plans while urging other civil rights, peace, student, and labor groups, and friendly politicians to center the blame for the riots on Congress.

By adopting this strategy, King and Rustin are saying that a "united front" could be built up to attack Congress, especially the House of Representatives. These attacks also would draw public attention and criticism for the riots away from such advocates of violence as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown, according to King and Rustin.

Both Brown and Carmichael are connected with the so-called Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and have been preaching violence and Black Power throughout the country. Carmichael is now in Cuba.

THE SECOND COMING—The King - Rustin plan calls for the "united front" to be operating as soon after Labor Day as possible in order to begin organizing for the coming battle to seat former Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell.

The second round in this historic constitutional battle should take place in early October when Powell's petition to regain this House seat reaches the Supreme Court. His petition, denied in Federal Court here, is on appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court.

By uniting these forces behind Powell, King and Rustin hope to create a national political issue to stir up Negroes in all the large cities and encourage them to become active with peace groups in the new "third force."

According to information gathered by House Democratic leaders, the King-Rustin strategy is being based on the assumption that the Supreme Court will rule in favor of Powell and the House will again refuse to seat the Harlem Democrat.

SHOULD A constitutional deadlock of this magnitude develop, the House leaders admit it could cause one of the gravest internal power struggles in this nation's history.

"Under the explosive racial conditions in this country," one House Democratic leader warned during a recent private discussion on the Powell case, "demonstrations in this country could easily lead to a riot that would set everything afire here."

It was the consensus of the House leaders taking part in the discussions that Powell, who was re-elected in a special election this spring, was delaying his return as part of the King-Rustin strategy.

And that is why, from Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., down, Democratic and Republican legislators are watching with apprehension Dr. King's increasing mixing of politics, civil rights, and anti - war activities.

Dr. King's lieutenant, the Rev. James Bevel, who organized the April Mobilization for Peace demonstration in New York, is reported already at work putting together the organization for the fall Powell rallies here.

THE RIOT PATTERN — Maryland's Governor Spiro Agnew has turned over to the Justice Department a report indicating the riots in Newark, Detroit, and Cambridge, Md. "had a similarity in organization and execution."

The evidence was gathered from law enforcement officials in these three riot-damaged cities and compiled for the governor by Francis B. Burch, Maryland's attorney General.

The unpublished document included samples of inflammatory leaflets, including printed instructions on how to make a Molotov cocktail, which were circulated in the three widely separate cities in advance of the outbreak of violence.

COMMUNICATION LINKS —Affidavits describing how snipers were deployed in prearranged patterns and how riot organizers monitored Newark and Detroit police radio broadcasts were included in the report. The document describes how a walkie - talkie communication network was set up in Newark by the riot organizers.

A comparison of information in the report from the three cities, according to Justice Department sources, suggests the following pattern of activities by riot agitators:

The agitators, including outsiders, move into ghetto areas first and set up temporary headquarters, work out the local riot plans, print and distribute leaflets. Then they wait for an incident or create their own to ignite the violence.

Defenses Of America Dip Dangerously Low

NO LESS THAN a dozen of the nation's most distinguished military men have fully confirmed a charge that Republicans have been making ever since 1964 — that U. S. defenses, under Robert McNamara, are dipping dangerously low.

I can recall no other time in our history when a man charged with the responsibility of the nation's defense has been so totally at odds with the men whose profession is defense, or any other time in our history when, even while at war, our defense planning has sagged so badly.

The blast by a dozen generals and admirals is just the latest item. Every responsible member of the military, from the Joint Chiefs of Staff down to field commanders, have at one time or another seemed to be in significant disagreement with Robert McNamara. But still he rides roughshod over every consideration except those of his own political position and personal pride.

THE DOZEN military men who have now stepped forward to challenge him are all retired officers of distinguished service, working together as a special panel of the private American Security Council to prepare a special report for the House Armed Services Committee.

To indicate their stature, the chairman of the group was Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, the recently retired commander of the Air Forces Systems Command, a post in which he was widely regarded as the military's foremost authority on nuclear weaponry. Serving with him were such men as Gen. Curtis Le May, former Air Force chief; Adm. Robert L. Dennison, former commander of the Atlantic Fleet; Gen. Thomas S. Power, recently retired head of the Strategic Air Command, and Maj. Gen. Dale Smith, an internationally respected commander and military theorist and historian.

THE KEY WARNING of this remarkable report is simple and stark:

"For 1971 it appears that a massive (nuclear) megatonnage gap will have developed. U. S. delivery capability is estimated to range between 6,000 megatons and 15,00 megatons, whereas the estimated high for the Soviet delivery capability is 50,000 megatons, and the projection of the established Soviet range curve indicates a low figure for the Soviets of approximately 30,000 megatons."

Much of the 1964 Republican President campaign was based upon precisely this proposition, that the decade of the 1970s, if things were left to Robert McNamara, would see this nation falling behind the Soviet Union in the amount of nuclear firepower that it could deliver.

THE CHARGES, at this time, were rebuffed as being purely political. They weren't then and they are not now.

When distinguished military men put their reputations on the line for what surely must be one of the strongest, grimmest warnings ever issued by professional soldiers (along, incidentally with a group of top scientific advisers who also served with the group) then it is time and long past time to take this matter to heart.

There is not a man of the group making this latest charge whose reputation would call for less than a serious hearing. Taken all together, such a group would in any sane situation be accorded a major hearing right away.

It is a frightening reflection of the hold that this administration has on the information, discussions, debates and even good sense of the public that Robert Strange McNamara can go right ahead with the disarming of this country no matter how loudly, clearly and concisely the warnings are sounded against a McNamara disaster in the decade of the 1970s.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

Teamsters Seeking Huge Wage Increase

ON A FAIRLY recent occasion — in April — Dr. Gardner Ackley, chief economic adviser to President Johnson, had the nerve to contend that the so - called economic guidelines were still in effect, i.e. that the Administration counted on labor and management to hold down to 3½ per cent the rise in wages and prices under new contracts. The guidelines are a part of the quaint recent history of American economic dirigisme, but they are nowhere more ludicrous than when contrasted to the demands of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters in Southern California who are currently bargaining with the super - markets in a contest whose effects will be felt far and wide. The contest is interesting as an economic question, though to be sure some will survey the new demands of the California teamsters as political rather than economic.

The economic cost of the demanded increase would come to $2.85 per hour, repeat per hour, in other words the teamsters are demanding an increase per hour which is itself almost twice the minimum wage. In percentage, the increase demanded, so far from observing the guideline of 3½ per cent, is more in the vicinity of 100 - 150 per cent.

I SUSPECT that the teamster chief who drew up these particular demands has a sly sense of humor, of the kind that gets its kicks from asking for the preposterous with an absolutely straight face — like the young Republican a couple of years ago who solemnly proposed that the UN building in New York be evacuated and converted into a memorial to the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

The demands of the teamsters, who are being carefully watched because their success may very well set an industry pattern, amount to:

1. A direct wage increase of $1.05 per hour.
2. Additional increases amounting to $1.80 per hour, making i.e. for a total increase of $2.85 per hour.

The demands for fringe increases include:

3. A 35 - hour work week with 40 hours of pay.
4. Five - weeks annual vacation with (and this is my favorite) vacation pay to be computed at time - and - a-half.
5. Ten days sick leave per year with (and here I do believe the teamster bargainers are laughing on the inside) all unused sick leave to be accumulated, with all paid on termination of employment.

THE FOOD Employers Council of California points out, not without reason, that the effect of these demands on the grosses of the area would be to reduce their profit before taxes from the precarious level of 1.8 per cent to 1.1 per cent of the gross. In business, that is insecurity. The obvious result is higher food prices, and it is generally recognized that California is a bell - wether, that what happens there to food prices is likely to happen, very quickly, elsewhere as the unions seek harmonious increases and the merchandisers accordingly move up the prices of their wares.

Recently in Fresno, California, a supermarket chain closed its outlets after calculating that the demands of the unions made profitable enterprise impossible. As it now stands, the markets charge, for instance, only 2 - cents more for a can of soup than they pay for it; and, as one operator reported, they seek to increase efficiency among their employees for the simple reason that "a 10 - cent item which the cashier forgets to charge for can eliminate the profit on a ten - dollar order."

THE ECONOMIC question has to do with the unique powers the labor unions have to make their practical jokes on a grand scale at the expense of people who buy groceries. What the business underworld is saying at the moment is, interestingly enough: if only Jimmy Hoffa weren't in jail! Not that he doesn't belong there. But Hoffa was supreme among the teamsters and did not feel the need to be outrageous (other than conventionally) in order to maintain that supremacy.

The fight among his potential successors is causing a number of them to act super - irresponsibly in order to draw national attention to themselves to fortify their positions among the rank and file to succeed Mr. Hoffa. To the presidency of the teamsters, yes. To Lewisburg Penitentiary? Only if Congress would get down to the business at hand and make it a federal offense to conspire in restraint of trade, as the 400,000 teamster members are doing every day of their extortionist existence, and twice and one - half while on vacation.

Operation Egg Hunt May Save Whoopers

By U. S. Senator Karl E. Mundt
(Republican of South Dakota)
Guest Colomnist for
Ralph de Toledano

MY VISITOR was a wildlife specialist. I asked him to provide me with information concerning a small item in the Department of Interior budget.

The Department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife had requested $20,000 for a research activity but the House denied the funds. Our Senate Appropriations subcommittee, on which I serve as ranking Republican, was preparing to work on the budget.

In the "justification" statement in which bureaus outline reasons for specific requests, the description said $20,000 was needed for "captive propagation studies" with sandhill cranes.

The portion that caught my eye noted the studies would determine whether techniques developed could apply to "bolstering the endangered whooping crane population."

Energetic efforts had been made for many years to save from extinction the only known flock of whooping cranes. These efforts, however, were, in the main, protective measures.

LAWS WERE enacted in Canada and the United States making it illegal to harm these huge birds. Protection also was provided at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast, where the whoopers winter, and Canada's Wood Buffalo National Park near the Arctic Circle, where the flock spends the summer.

But the number of whooping cranes was so small, even the best of protective measures could not ensure survival.

I asked my visitor if the research item was "just a shot in the dark." Or did the Bureau have something new offering hope the 32 whooping cranes then existing would not be the last of this rare bird?

I was told there was enough similarity between sandhill cranes, species of which there were a few thousand, and whooping cranes to warrant experiments to determine if sandhill cranes could be reared in captivity. Successful techniques developed on sandhill cranes could then be applied to whoopers.

"SENATOR," my visitor said, "this program may well be the one single activity which will save the whooping crane."

Early 1963 was the time of that conversation. I then submitted to the Interior Budget and received approval of an amendment to carry on the research, and in subsequent years requested and received additional funds to expand the endangered wildlife species program and locate it at the Patuxent Wildlife Center, near Washington. D. C.

The prediction of what this program could do began to come true this year. We had not taken "just a shot in the dark." Four years of research paid off with the launching and subsequent success of "Operation Egg Hunt."

Operation Egg Hunt — a journey to the Canadian nesting grounds to pick up several whooping crane eggs for hatching under artificial conditions — received the "go - ahead" when Bureau scientists achieved success in their experiments with sandhill cranes.

DR. RAY C. Erickson, assistant director of the Patuxent Center, who also is in charge of the endangered species activity at the Center, and his assistant, Glen Smart, in cooperation with Canadian wildlife officials, successfully returned five whooping crane eggs to Patuxent.

All five eggs hatched and "Operation Egg Hunt" became "Project Grow." Five baby whoopers began life in a protected, scientifically controlled environment.

In the space of only a few days, the world population of the whooping crane had increased by ten percent, to a total of 55: the five chicks at Patuxent, 43 in the wild flock in Canada, and seven other adults in captivity in the United States.

Following this success at Patuxent, additional good news came from Canada. Several baby whoopers had hatched in the wild.

Witchita Negroes To Air Grips At City Meeting

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Three members of the Negro community will carry their gripes to City Hall next week after a night disturbed by gunfire, beatings and a noisy police station demonstration. Four Negroes and Sheriff Vern Miller were pelted with shotgun pellets and three white persons reported being beaten by a Negro during the early morning hours.

Wendell Peete, 22, a Negro, was arrested shortly after the beatings and charged with three counts of assault. He was arraigned and released on $1,500 bond pending a preliminary hearing Aug. 4.

Acting city manager Ralph Wulz said a letter from Eddie D. Locke asked to be heard by the city commission. He said the request was made on behalf of Locke, Robert Mitchell and Walter Paul. Wulz said the letter requested permission "to represent the Negro young adults of northeast Wichita in your Aug. 8 agenda." He said the matter would be on the commission agenda.

Locke listed as grievances: police brutality, insufficient recreation facilities, equal employment and what was termed "unfairness toward Negroes in general."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Miller pressed an intense hunt for the car from which he was fired on and which a young white driver used in an apparent attempt to run him down.

Miller said he hailed the car in a predominantly Negro residential area and was answered with a shotgun blast.

Pellets rattled on his car, nicked his upper left arm and slightly injured at least three persons in the crowd.

Stock Market Ends Day With Moderate Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market overcame some precautionary selling Friday and ended with a moderate advance, enough to make another 1967 closing high in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was active.

Volume was 11.13 million shares.

The Dow industrials rose 1.79 to 923.77, topping the closing peak of 922.27 made Wednesday.

Stocks followed through from the strong recovery drive of Thursday afternoon which almost succeeded in erasing the sizable loss taken on the first news of President Johnson's proposal to enact a 10 per cent surtax on individual and corporate incomes.

Wall Street paid heed to reports from Washington that reactions of Congressmen to the Johnson proposals ranged from lukewarm to chilly. It was assumed that the tax surcharge would have tough sledding and that it would not necessarily be enacted as President Johnson wanted it.

Gains outnumbered losses by a fairly wide margin all day. Blue chips were laggard at the start but came up more strongly in mid session. Toward the end there was some trimming of the best prices.

The usual pre-weekend caution tended to keep the advance within leash.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose a minimal .1 at 341.6 with industrials up .2, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

Of 1,459 issues traded, 724 advance dand 488 declined.

Allis Chalmers was the most active stock, off ⅝ at 30 on 222,500 shares. The stock backed away from a gain exceeding a point. It has been very stong in recent sessions, responding to merger rumors and also, brokers said, to some buying by investment funds.

Late in the session Allis-Chalmers was subjected to heavy selling. Analysts said some institutional investors appeared to be unloading it. A brief trading halt was called in the stock. It reopened at the closing bell on a block of 44,000 shares at its final price, 30.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and Atlas Corp. was unchanged.

Among active gainers, Sperry Rand rose ⅝ to 39½, Gulf & Western Industries 1⅜ to 63, Parke Davis, 1. to 30½, Lionel ¾ to 9¾, Studebaker 2 to 72 and Scott Paper . to 27¾.

Flintkote, off 1¼ at 25½, was the worst loser in the most active list.

Ling-Temco-Vought rose 6⅞ to 154½. Late in the day it was reported that the company had made a tender offer for the stock of Greatamerica Corp., a holding company based in Dallas, Texas.

Du Pont, up 3¼ at 159¼, continued to bolster the Dow industrials. Other key stocks boosting the closely watched average rose as follows:

Alcoa 1⅝, Anaconda 1, Procter & Gamble 1 and American Tobacco ½.

General Motors braked the advance by losing 1¼ at 85⅛. Union Carbide lost 1, United Aircraft 1¼ and Woolworth ⅞.

Among the Dow Jones rails, Chicago & North Western gained 5 and Norfolk & Western 1.

Polaroid fell 7⅛. Xerox 1⅝. U. S. Smelting 1⅜, Merck 1⅜ and Pfizer 1¾.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .17 to 95.83.

The New York Stock Exchange index rose 14 cents to $53.22.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 5.74 million shares. The Exchange's index rose 18 cents to $21.25.

Nuclear Corp was active and up ⅞ at 4. Gains of 2 or more were made by Syntex, Daylin Inc. and ANelex.

Corporate bonds edged higher on balance. U.S. Treasury bonds slumped on a broad front.

Costs Zigzag On Chicago Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and grain futures prices zigzagged between gains and losses during most of the session on the Board of Trade Friday.

Brokers said the market discounted a private report forecasting record corn and soybean crops larger than previously estimated.

Prices slipped somewhat when the report was issued but quickly recovered on buying by commission houses and local traders.

Late in the session many gains were replaced by losses.

The report, by Conrad Leslie, crop statistician for Lamson Bros. & Co. estimated corn production at a record 4.6 billion bushels based on Aug.1 conditions.

This estimate is nearly 100 million bushels higher than the Agriculture Department's July estimate and compares with last year's record production of 4.1 billion bushels.

The report also forecast a soybean crop of somewhat over 1 billion bushels compared with last year's record production of 931.5 million bushels.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅞ cents a bushel lower, September 1.55⅜-¼; corn ⅛ higher to ¾ LOWER, September 1.22⅛-¼; oats were ⅜ to ⅞ LOWER, September 72½-⅝ cents; rye was ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, September 1.26½ and soybeans were ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, August 2.76⅞-¾.

LINDA WEIYMANN (left) and Betty Wathan sit at the New Orleans police station after they were arrested and booked with illegal possession of counterfeit money and narcotics. Police Think They Have Source Of Bogus Bills

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — New Orleans police believe they have found the source of counterfeit $10 bills which have been circulating in the New Orleans and Hammond areas.

Detectives seized more than $50,000 in bogus $10 bills during and after the arrest of two women and a man Thursday night.

Booked with possession of contraband narcotics and counterfeit currency were James T. Cronan, 24; Linda Weiymann, 21, and Betty Wathan, 22, all of whom gave a Baronne St. address in New Orleans.

Nine capsules of heroin were confiscated from one of the women when they were arrested on nearby Camp St., officers said.

Detectives said all of them were free on bond on other charges when they were arrested. The Wathan woman had been charged with car theft, and the other woman and the man with possession of narcotics.

The three had been under surveillance for several days.

Detectives said the heroin was found on Mrs. Weiymann, and a narcotics "cooker" was found in possession of Miss Wathan. A police matron searching Miss Wathan found 60 apurious $10 bills in a waistband on her slacks, the officers said.

Viet Buildup From Strategic Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration will draw from the nation's strategic reserve to fill out the newly authorized 525,000-man strength level for Vietnam by next summer, Pentagon spokesmen confirmed Friday.

The bulk of the additional 45,000 to 50,000 troops to go to Vietnam after the previously approved 480,000-man level is reached in October will come from existing active units of the strategic reserve force, officials said.

This force presently includes two brigades of the 191st Airborne Division in Kentucky, the 82nd Airborne Division in North Carolina, the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions in Texas and the 5th Mechanized Division in Colorado.

In addition to these divisions, the strategic reserve includes the 6th Armored Calvary Regiment in Maryland, the 11th Infantry Brigade in Hawaii and the 198th Infantry Brigade in Texas. The 198th already has been designated to go to Vietnam this year.

The strength of the major strategic reserve units totals about 83,000 officers and men.

There are also smaller independent artillery, engineer, ordnance and signal units located around the United States.

As a matter of policy, the Pentagon does not identify specific units until they reach Vietnam.

Pentagon spokesmen would not say what effect the decision to draw from the strategic reserve would have on draft calls in coming months. Earlier Friday, the Pentagon had discounted reports that these calls might reach 35,000 a month in the final quarter of the year.

It is known that while operating under the 480,000-man force level for Vietnam, it had been planned to call about 24,000 a month throughout the fiscal years which began in July. Calls announced for August and September were 29,000 and 25,000, respectively.

Rarick Campaign Kicks Off Here

The "We can elect John Rarick" campaign kicked off in Northeast Louisiana Friday night with a rally at the First National Bank Building in West Monroe.

Speakers Courtney Smith and Charles Ray appeared on behalf of Congressman Rarick and Ned Touchstone, an announced candidate for State Superintendent of Education.

Rarick officially announced his candidacy for governor during a rally Friday night in Baton Rouge. The former state district judge from St. Francisville defeated veteran 6th District Congressman Jimmy Morrison in 1966.

Smith is head of the state Citizens Council and Ray is a radio broadcaster who reports on a statewide network "Monitor South." Touchstone is editor of the "Councilor," a citizens council newspaper published in Shreveport.

Ray said Rarick would campaign by pointing out Gov. John McKeithen's failure to fulfill campaign promises. Both Smith and Ray hit McKeithen hard in the one - hour campaign kickoff attended by a sparse crowd estimated at 60.

The general appeal Friday was for campaign funds for Touchstone. Ray said Rarick "won't have as much trouble raising money. The time is now," he said. "Let's put two men in office who will stand up to Washington."

Ray produced a Negro newspaper from Baton Rouge which he said quoted McKeithen as saying he had desegrated state agencies by executive order. Ray said this was not consistant with McKeithen's campaign promised of fighting federal interference in state matters.

"John McKeithen is the biggest liar in the state," Ray said. He then called state AFL-CIO president Victor Bussie "the second biggest liar in Louisiana."

Bussie has become closely linked with the McKeithen administration during the past two years.

Ray said Rarick would carry votes from the "rank and file" labor people throughout the state. "He carried the biggest labor vote ever in Baton Rouge when he was elected to Congress, Ray said of Rarick.

Smith told his audience not to pay attention to newspapers that reported Rarick can't win. "He won in the 6th District. Mrs. George Wallace won in Alabama. Lester Maddox won in Georgia," Smith shouted over applause.

Smith hinted that Rarick and Touchstone might run as a team against McKeithen and Superintendent of Education William Dodd.

Smith predicted that if Dodd and McKeithen are re-elected, "we will have riots and burning in Louisiana just like Watts and Detroit. If you leave men in office like McKeithen and Bill Dodd, you will see Monroe burn," he said.

Wreck Victim Unconcious At Hospital

BEAUMONT, Tex. (Special) —A Northeast Louisiana State College student, A. V. Paulk, 22, of Starks, late Friday night remained in critical condition at Baptist hospital here following a highway accident Thursday in Allen Parish, La.

Paulk has remained unconscious since the two-car accident on U. S. 165 at Oberlin. He is the brother of Mrs. Jimmy Hatten of Monroe. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Paulk of Starks.

He was transferred here from St. Francis Cabrini Hospital in Alexandria.

Two other persons were injured in the 6 p.m. accident state police said. They were identified as Mrs. Anita Pitre, 50, of Oberlin, driver of the other car, and Bertha Pitre, age 9.

According to state police, the mishap occurred as a car driven by Paulk, traveling south, attempted to pass another vehicle and hit the Pitre vehicle headon.

Man In 'Quake Zone Contacted

Former Northeast Louisiana State College student Manuel Pereza was finally contacted Friday by his wife, daughter of O. M. Parrish of West Monroe.

Mrs. Pereza's husband had been visiting relatives in the South American country when the earthquake occurred last week. Mrs. Pereza read of the death of Mrs. Lyn Kaplan, her sister - in - law, in the newspaper Tuesday. Also among the dead were Keith Allan Kaplan and Alida Kaplan, their daughter, all of Owatonna, Minn.

Mrs. Pereza was unable to contact her husband until Friday. She received a letter Thursday, however, mailed about "one - hour" before the disaster struck.

The Pereza family was reported in good condition by Mrs. Pereza after the telephone conversation with her husband. Also, Clark Kaplan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kaplan, reported missing, has been found and is alive.

'Yankee Clipper'

In an effort to keep Monroe's new "Mr. Dynamic," Civic Center Director Bill Lillyman, on the move, City Commissioner H. W. "Mac" McSherry scavenged around the Municipal Golf Course storage room and came up with a rather beat - up old golf cart.

McSherry had the cart rebuilt, dressed it up with a coat of bright blue paint with the Monroe Civic Center emblem on the front and presented it to Lillyman. The yankee from Boston seemed especially pleased that his cart has a name. Painted on the back are the words:

"Yankee Clipper."

Many Ask About Legal Moves Against Carmichael

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has answered about 1,000 letters from the public during the past four months inquiring about the activities of Stokely Carmichael, founder of the Black Power movement, it was learned Friday.

Copies of some of the department's replies, obtained by a reporter, show that many of the letter writers—among both the general public and Congress—asked about the applicability of various laws in connection with Carmichael's activities.

The letters showed:

—The Justice Department says it is "reviewing Carmichael's activities to determine whether he has violated, in any particular instance, any applicable federal law."

—"Judicial decisions make it clear that before any form of speech can be suppressed, there must be convincing evidence that grave harm and danger to the nation would otherwise follow."

—Court decisions say that counseling draft evasion means "attempting to persuade specific persons to evade such a duty, and we know of no decisions indicating that counseling evasion contemplates expressions of views and opinions made to a general audience."

—"Appropriate action will be taken whenever it appears that criminal prosecution would be warranted."

—Since Carmichael derives citizenship through naturalization of his father on April 27, 1953, he "is not subject to deportation under existing federal law."

The department's letters also explained what evidence is necessary before convictions can be obtained for various crimes.

In one letter the department said "any individual who calls upon his fellow citizens to disobey our country's law, who advocates violence, or who seeks to set one race against another does his nation and himself a grave disservice.

Senate Candidate Issues Statement

John C. Ensminger, Monroe businessman who formally announced his candidacy Friday for one of the two senate seats in the new 4th Senatorial District composed of Ouachita, Morehouse, East and West Carroll parishes, issued the following statement:

"As a native of this Senatorial District, I am seeking the office of Senator because I humbly believe that I am qualified to represent you the voters of this district.

"My platform basically is one of honest representation for you. Should you, the electorate, choose to send me to the State Senate I will represent you with honesty, common sense, and to the best of my ability. I am not tied to any political faction nor do I seek this office to further any special interest. I will be obligated to you only and this is as it should be.

"Experience gained through education, business and public service has given me a thorough knowledge and understanding of the needs of my district. In the past months I have talked with individuals and elected officials throughout the four parishes. I see the problems that basically concern us all and this has confirmed my belief that I am qualified to represent you.

"Because of the increased size of our new district, I see a need for closer co-operation and communication between the office I seek, you and your elected officials, to include your parish, city and town officials, and your school boards. It will be my intention to visit and be in close contact with each area of our district on a regular basis.

"Some of our most pressing needs are: improving the State's program for crime prevention, establishing and enforcing a program for Highway safety, Strengthening local government, improving education at all levels and meeting additional recreational needs.

"Because my children have their future in education ahead of them, I consider quality education for our children as one of my prime concerns. As a father in close contact with the increased needs of education in today's world, I will support needed legislation that will improve our schools.

"As a public - minded citizen, I have been interested in many areas of government, both on the local and parish level as well as on the state and national levels. I contend that our state, as well as our communities, are in dire need of men in public office who stand for the basic American ideals and principles.

"Trends that are apparent in our nation today — such as the Anti - American movement taking place in our big cities and on the part of some citizens — are dangerous to our well-being. As a member of the State Senate I will cast each vote with the thought in mind of preserving our freedoms while improving our future.

"I submit that our nation and our State cannot continue along the path of free - spending to pacify a few, and for this reason I pledge my efforts to the economical operation of our state governemnt.

"During the next ninety days, I will do my utmost to contact as many of the voters in this district as possible, and I will be discussing our mutual problems. By your vote and support I will be elected your State Senator."

Water Rate Hike Backed By Committee

A West Monroe Citizens Advisory Committee Friday night unanimously endorsed increased water rates and urged the City Council to call a bond election "at the earliest possible date," according to chairman H. H. (Tige) Mullins.

The election will be to issue more than $2 million in bonds to build a sewage treatment system and expand the municipal water department.

The proposed water rate increase will cost an average of $1.85 more a month per water customer. Under the proposed new rate schedule, there will be a base charge of $2.50 a month for domestic users, plus 30 cents for each additional 1,000 gallons used.

For commercial customers with three - quarter inch taps, base charge will be $5 a month, plus 35 cents an additional 1,000 gallons. One - inch tap commercial customers will pay $6 a month, plus 35 cents an additional 1,000 gallons. One and one - half inch tap commercial customers will pay $7.50 base charges, plus 35 cents an additional 1,000 gallons, and two-inch tap commercial users will pay a $10 base charge plus 35 cents an additional 1,000 gallons.

Mayor W. B. (Bert) Hatten, who attended the meeting, said the City Council is expected to call the bond election at its Tuesday meeting, with a tentative date set for Sept. 23.

Merritt Spoils Tea Party, Blanks Boston On Five Hits

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Lefty Jim Merritt toughened after some early-inning troubles and scattered five hits, pitching Minnesota to a 3-0 victory over Boston Friday night.

The defeat dropped the second-place Red Sox 2½ games behind the rain-idled Chicago White Sox in the American League.

The Twins jumped on Boston starter Darrell Brandon, 4-9, for two runs in the first inning. Merritt needed no more, as he hurled his third shutout of the season and ran his record to 8-3.

Two of Minnesota's three runs were unearned as the Boston infield committed three errors.

Tony Oliva doubled home the Twins' first run after Rod Carew singled and Cesar Tovar was safe on Joe Foy's error on a sacrifice attempt. Brandon walked Harmon killebrew to load the bases, then struck out Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles before walking Ted Uhlaender to force in the second run of the first inning.

Allison doubled and pinch-runner Sandy Valdespino raced home when Mike Andres let Versalles' grounder skip past him for an error, giving the Twins an insurance run in the seventh.

Packers Demolish All-Stars, 27-0

Green Bay Defense Chokes College Cream

CHICAGO (AP) — The green Bay Packers, champions of professional football, rolled with ease behind the passing of Bart Starr in the first half and then coasted to a 27-0 victory over the College All-Stars Friday night.

A crowd of 70,934 saw the sturdy Packer defense completely contain the cream of collegiate football as Starr connected on a pair of first half touchdown passes after Don Chandler had booted two first quarter field goals.

The victory was the 23rd for the professionals against nine losses and two ties in the colorful series which began in 1934 and the second in a row for the Packers who annihalated the 1966 All-Stars 38-0.

The last time the All-Stars were victorious was against the Packers, 20-17 in 1963.

Green Bay's granite defense didn't allow the All-Stars to get into Packer territory until the fourth quarter when Bob Griese hit Mel Farr with a 27-yard pass but Farr was hit and fumbled the ball with Dave Robinson recovering for the Packers on the Green Bay 47.

Starr, who connected for touchdown passes of 11 yards to Boyd Dowler and 22 yards to Bob Long, hit on 14 of 20 attempts for 204 yards but was withheld from action in the second half.

After Robinson recovered Farr's fumble, the Packers marched in for another six points, with Jim Grabowski rambling 22 yards for the score.

Grabowski, who saw National Guard duty in the Milwaukee riots earlier in the week, was not expected to play but turned out to be the Packers' top running back of the night after entering the game in the second quarter.

The All-Stars' only threat came late in the game when Griese began hitting and directed a drive from the All-Star 19 to the Green Bay 18.

Griese completed passes of 11 yards to Gene Washington of Michigan State and 14 yards to Tom Beer of Houston before he hit Dave Williams of Washington with a 26 - yarder to the Packer 18.

Griese then tossed another pass to Williams, but the official ruled it incomplete as Williams caught the ball out of the end zone.

The stubborn Packer defense, stingiest in the NFL last year, refused to allow the Stars any notable gains in the first half as Green Bay methodically moved to a 2-0 halftime advantage on the deft passing of Star.

The All-Stars took the opening kickoff and moved from their own 20 to 44 on the running of Farr before they were forced to punt.

Starr directed the Packers to the All-Star six-yard line as he completed four passes and Green Bay settled for a 3-0 lead on Chandler's 13-yard field goal.

Three plays later Steve Spurrier of Florida fumbled and Packer defensive tackle Ron Kostelnick recovered on the All-Star 15. The Packers managed to gain eight yards before a 14-yard field goal by Chandler made the score 6-0.

Early in the second quarter, Green Bay's Herb Adderley intercepted a Griese pass on the Packer 45. Green Bay drove down to the All-Star nine-yard line, but a 15-yard field goal attempt by Chandler was blocked by Alan Page of Notre Dame.

The maneuver apparently incensed the Packers who went for touchdowns the next two times they got their hands on the ball.

Midway in the second quarter the Packers drove 61 yards for a touchdown climaxed by Starr's 11-yard scoring strike to Dowler to make the score 13-0.

With the clock running out in the first half, the Packers forced the All-Stars to punt on a fourth-and-inches situation from the All-Star 48 and then drove 76 yards for another touchdown, culminated by Starr's 22-yard scoring toss to Long.

During the drive, Starr connected with a 33-yard pass to Long and another big gaier of 14 yards to Dowler.

All-Star coach Johnny Sauer kept shifting from Spurrier to Griese at the quarterback slot and finally used Bo Burris of Houston in the closing minutes. Except for the Griese drive to the Green Bay 18, none of them had much success against the unyielding and proud Packer defense.

Cards Collect Five In Fifth, Send Cincy Into Fourth Place

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Doubles by Lou Brock and Phil Gagliano keyed a five-run sixth inning and Larry Jaster stopped Cincinnati on four hits as St. Louis ripped the Reds 5-0 Friday night.

Mike Shannon singled, driving in the Cardinals first run off loser Gary Nolan. Gagliano drove in a run with his double and Brock doubled in two more. Shannon scored the other run of the inning on Jaster's infield out.

Jaster picked up his seventh victor as he allowed just two hits, both by Tommy Harper, through the first six innings. Jaster struck out five and walked just one man.

Brock, Roger Maris and Dal Maxvill each had a pair of hits, leading the Cardinals' nine hit assault. Brock singled in the third, extending his hitting streak to 11 games.

The Cardinals ran their National League lead to seven games over second place Chicago Cubs. Cincinnati fell nine games back and dropped to fourth place behind San Francisco.

Clay Will Watch

Terrell, Ellis Picked In Boxing Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —Ernie Terrell and Jimmy Ellis, a former sparmate of Cassius Clay, today's favorites as two 12-round matches launch an eight - man tournament to select a new heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

Clay is expected to be at ringside in the Astrodome for the start of the tournament sanctioned by the World Boxing Association after it stripped the undefeated Clay of his title after he refused induction into the Army.

Terrell, who claimed the WBA version of the title for 23 months until Clay whipped him last February, is a firm favorite over Thad Spencer, a San Francisco counterpuncher who had hoped to follow Terrell into the ring against Clay.

Ellis, whose dancing style resembles that of Clay, holds a narrow edge over Leotis Martin, a relative newcomer who got his big chance when Joe Frazier, the No. 2 challenger, decided to boycott the tournament.

Both matches will be televised nationally by ABC as 5 p.m. EDT with the Houston area blacked out. The Ellis-Martin match is set for 5:15 p.m., with Terrell and Spencer following at 6:15 p.m. The fights also will be televised in Mexico and satellites will carry them to Great Britain, Europe and Japan.

A crowd of 15,000 and a $75,000 gate are expected. These estimates contrast with a record indoor crowd of 37,321 and a gate of $400,145 for the Feb. 6 Clay-Terrell title showdown in the Astrodome.

Winners Saturday will move into the semifinals against survivors of matches between Karl Mildenberger and Oscar Bonavena and between Floyd Patterson and Jerry Quarry.

Mildenberger is ranked the No. 1 contender by the WBA ahead of Frazier, Bonavena, Terrell, Spencer, Quarry, Ellis and Martin.

Terrell, at 28, has won 39 of 44 fights and has never been knocked out. He has a reputation of mauling, pushing, shoving and jabbing. He has given every indication of complete recovery from a severe eye injury he claimed he received when fouled by Clay.

Spencer, 24, is a protege of Eddie Machen. He holds a 32-3 record but has been knocked out twice.

Both Ellis and Martin are 27. Ellis, a Louisville, Ky., native, has had 12 knockouts in a 26-5 record. Martin, a Toledo, Ohio, native boxing out of Philadelphia has 14 knockouts and a 24-1 record.

All four have spent considerable time during training talking about Clay.

"Pound for pound, Clay was the best champion of our time," Terrell said. "If somebody has to buy him a ticket Saturday, I'll buy it."

"Clay was a great champion," Spencer said. "But he's gone. That's over. Now he's got to convince the warden his name is Muhammad Ali, now us."

Clay is free under $5,000 bond while appealing his June 20 conviction and a five year prison sentence.

Sadecki Aids Cause For Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Sadecki delivered a pair of key singles and, with ninth inning help from Frank Linzy, blanked New York 3-0 for San Francisco Friday night.

Sadecki, who struck out nine before leaving with one out in the ninth, drove in the Giants' second run with a fifth inning single and then set up the final run with another hit in the seventh against Tom Seaver, 10-8.

Jim Hart's 25th homer of the year in the second inning gave Sadecki, 4-3, a quick lead

Then in the fifth, Hal Lanier opened with a single. Tito Fuentes forced Lanier but stole second and rode home on Sadecki's single.

Pirates Call For Gelnar

PITTSBUGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates called pitcher John Gelnar from their Columbus, Ohio, farm club Friday to replace reliever Pete Mikkelsen, who was sold earlier to the Chicago Cubs.

Gelnar, a 24-year-old right-hander, had a record of 10-4 with Columbus.

Menke, Torre Make Cubs Look Like Teddy Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Dennis Menke rapped out four hits and Joe Torre collected three singles and drove in two runs while leading the Atlanta Braves to a 6-3 victory over the second-place Chicago Cubs Friday. The loss was the Cubs' sixth in their last seven games.

Torre's second singie with the bases filled in the fifth inning capped a three-run rally that enabled the Braves to take a 5-1 lead.

The Cubs moved ahead 1-0 in the third on singles by Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert plus Billy Williams' sacrifice fly.

Atlanta, however, rallied for two runs in a fourth inning rally ignited by Menke's double. Aaron followed with a single, tying the score. An error, Torre's infield single and a ground out brought home the lead run.

Chicago closed the gap to 5-3 in the seventh on singles by Al Spangler, John Stephenson, Lee Thomas and Kessinger. The uprising routed Pat Jarvis, the Braves' starter, but the latter was credited with his 12th victory against four losses. Cecil Upshaw finished.

Aaron had three singles before being sidelined in the sixth inning with a slight muscle pull in his right side. He is expected to play Saturday.

The loser was Rich Nye. He's now 9-8.

The Braves loaded the bases again in the eighth on singles by Torre and Rico Carty and an intentional pass to Bob Uecker. But reliever Bill Hands walked Upshaw to force in the Braves' final run.

Jarvis allowed three runs on nine hits in the six innings he worked. Upshaw set the Cubs down on two hits in the final three innings.

The Braves collected 13 hits off three Cub pitchers, but didn't hit a home run. They hit seven against Chicago Thursday, one short of the major league record

The two teams play again Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Wilt Claims Unprecedented 76er Waive Of Reserve Clause

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain apparently was given the implication his contract last year with the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association waived the reserve clause, without which major sports teams contend they cannot operate.

The Associated Press learned today from an unimpeachable source that Chamberlain was told by 76ers owner Irv Kosloff that his 1966-67 contract committed the 7-foot-1 star for only one year and that he then was released from all obligations in that contract.

The source, however, said that in his recollection the reserve clause was not specifically mentioned, although release from it was implied.

Chamberlain, in a copyright story by George Kiseda in the Philadelphia Bulletin today, said there are reliable witnesses to this unprecedented oral agreement with Kosloff.

There were only four persons in the room when Chamberlain agreed to terms for the 1966-67 season, the player, Kosloff and two others, whose names have not been disclosed.

Chamberlain did sign a standard NBA contract, which contains the reserve clause binding him to the 76ers unless traded or released, but he told Kiseda that the contract signing was charade.

The dispute between the club and professional basketball's No. 1 player would be academic except for the fact that a new league has come into existence since Chamberlain signed his last contract, and the player now insists he is free to jump to the new league if he desires without any legal problems.

"I don't believe the 76ers would sue," Chamberlain told Kiseda from San Francisco where he lives in the off season.

The reserve clause is considered inviolate by owners in baseball, football, basketball, hockey and all major sports. It is what binds a player to one club from the moment he signs his first contract, until the club either trades or releases him.

There is no record of any other player ever receiving the concession Chamberlain says he was granted. Kiseda reports that this was not the only unique thing about Chamberlain's contract. Chamberlain says no other player in sports ever has been paid as much in straight salary as he received last season — reportedly upwards of $200,000.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain, who led the 76ers to the NBA championship last season, said the concession leaves him free to jump to the new American Basketball Association if he chooses.

"I was released from all obligations. I am able to do whatever I want to do this particular year — with the possible exception of going to another NBA team.

"Without a doubt, I would have never signed if that hadn't been the main thing stipulated. People there know it."

Kiseda was not immediately available for comment on Chamberlain's reserve clause claim.

Chamberlain has contended in a salary dispute with the 76ers that he is free to negotiate for next season and was not tied to a three-year pact as once insisted by General Manager Jack Ramsay of the 76ers. Ramsay recently addmitted, however, that Chamberlain had completed a one year pact and was free to negotiate. He insisted, however, the giant star was tied to the NBA by the reserve clause.

Chamberlain has said there was one part of his 1966-67 contract unrecognized by the 76ers, and until now had refused to divulge what it was.

Chamberlain said he signed a standard NBA contract, which contains the reserve clause. But according to him that was a charade.

"I have a release from everything that was binding in that contract," Chamberlain told Kiseda from his hotel suite in San Francisco. "We went through the formality of signing a contract because one had to be on file in the league office."

"They've come halfway down, but they haven't come all the way down. It makes me look as if I'm telling a big fat lie. I usually know what I'm doing and when I don't I have somebody around who does."

Room Made For Odom

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics sent Ossie Chavarria, utility infielder, to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League Friday.

The move makes room on the 25-man roster for John "Blue Moon" Odom, recalled from Vancouver earlier this week to bolster the club's pitching staff.

Chavarria had six hits in 58 times at bat for a mark of .103.

Phils Mount 16-Hit Attact, Drub Astros

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Ellsworth hurled a seven-hitter and was backed by a 16-hit Philadelphia attack Friday night as the Phillies clubbed Houston 7-1.

Don Lock, with a three-run homer in the third inning, and Rich Allen, with a two-run double in the first, provided the power as the Phillies won their fourth straight game.

Ellsworth, 3-4, completed his first game since April 23 as the Phils beat Don Wilson, 8-6, who earlier this season threw a no-hitter against Atlanta.

The Phils scored all their runs in the first three innings with Tony Gonzalez doubling in a run in the first and Johnny Briggs driving one in with a triple in the third.

The Astros scored in the ninth on Doug Rader's run-scoring single.

Final Series Tuneup

Monroe Collects Revenge Win, 7-3

By BUTCH MUIR
World Sports Writer

Art LaGrange and Petey Smith stroked decisive singles in two uprisings to carry Monroe to a 7-3 victory over West Monroe and a split of their exhibitions at American Legion Stadium here Friday night.

The Monroe team came up with four runs in the fifth inning and added three more in the sixth and the former Neville stars accounted for five of the runs with two singles each.

It was the final tuneup for the two teams before they enter the Dixie Senior World Series, in which they are co-hosts, Monday. West Monroe had taken a 3-2 victory at Confederate Park Thursday night.

Trailing 1-0 entering the last half of the fifth inning, Monroe took advantage of four errors by its cross - river rival and put together four straight singles off loser mark fuller for four runs and a 4-1 lead.

Tim Allen opened the inning by walking and stole second. After Mickey Osborne struck out and pinch - hitter Mike Dispenza reached on an error, LaGrange shot a single to right to plate Allen and knot the score. But Keith McVay let the ball bound past him for a two - base error, with Dispenza scoring from first and LaGrange going to third.

Then Smith followed with a single to center to bring LaGrange around for a 3-1 lead. After Smith was thrown out attempting to steal, Monroe starting and winning pitcher Tom Brown got his second hit and came on around on two more West Monroe errros.

West Monroe came back to trim the lead to 4-3 with two runs in the sixth but Monroe added its three in the bottom of the inning to wrap it up.

LaGrange had another RBI single in the rally and Smith followed with another single to plate two more Monroyans.

West Monroe's first run, in the second inning, came on Charles "Cooter" Lenard's second towering home run in as many games, sailing over the 320-foot sign in left field. Thursday night it was his two-run shot that gave West Monroe its victory.

Festivities for the tournament, which draws 10 teams from seven states, gets underway Sunday night at a barbeque banquet in Gunby Dining Hall on the Northeast State College campus.

The tourney's first game is 1 p.m. Monday with Hueytown, Ala., taking on Texarkana, Tex. The Louisiana champion meets the Mississippi champion in the 3 p.m. game, with West Monroe going against Norcross, Ga., at 6 p.m. and Monroe against the Tennessee champion at 8 o'clock.

Four games are set Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with three Thursday, two Friday and either one or two Saturday night in the finals.

State champions from Louisiana, Mississippi, Florida and Tennesse were being determined in tournaments this weekend, but all teams will register Sunday afternoon.

A "scratch" meeting or organizational gathering will be held between tournament officials and team representatives Sunday night.

All tournament games will be held at Legion Stadium.

NBC, Baseball In Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — Organized baseball and the National Broadcasting Co. agreed Friday on a $50 million three-year television contract.

The package includes the World Series, the All-Star Game and 28 weekly telecasts.

John E. Fetzer of the Detroit Tigers, chairman of the major league television committee, announced the agreement after a day-long negotiating session.

The current package, which expires after next season, was worth about $36 million.

The agreement came as a surprise.

NBC's option to renew the contract did not expire until Sept. 15.

There had been some indications that baseball, bouyed by a hike in its ratings this season, would turn to rival networks — the American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System — before reaching the settlement stage with NBC.

Baseball would have been free to negotiate elsewhere after Sept. 15.

An estimated 45 million persons watched the All-Star game last month when it was played at night for the first time.

Fetzer called baseball's television ratings "very good, very fine."

Some also believed that NBC's signing of Sandy Koufax to a lucrative long term contract as a television commentator would have some bearing on the talks.

Koufax, perhaps the top drawing card in the National League, retired because of an arthritic elbow.

Dodgers officials reportedly believed that he might have been persuaded to pitch one more year were it not for the television offer.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger owner and a member of the committee, denied that the Koufax signing played any role at all in the negotiations.

Haymond Loss Would Hurt Colts

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Alvin Haymond, free safety for the Baltimore Colts, will be operated on next Tuesday for a chronic right shoulder dislocation and Coach Don Shula said he could be sidelined for the entire season.

It will be a double loss for the Colts. In addition to his defensive value, Haymond was one of the most daring punt returners in the National Football League.

U. S. Assaults Track Marks

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — The United States' powerful track and field forces sent the nation's gold medal harvest soaring past the 100 mark Friday and shattered seven event records in the Pan-American Games.

Additionally, the U.S. unbeaten men's basketball team moved to within a step of the championship by crushing Argentina 106-55, and Yankee crews advanced to the finals in all seven events on the Red River Floodway.

It was one of the biggest days yet for Uncle Sam, whose number of gold medals was raised to 102, with 56 silver and 40 bronze. The Yanks have a good chance of beating their record 120 set in 1959 with more titles expected in track, boxing and rowing on the final day of major competition Saturday.

The U.S. team won five gold medals in men's events and another in women's competition, giving it 24 of the 26 championships settled to date.

The outstanding individual performance was turned in by Eleanor Montgomery of Cleveland, who broke both the Pan-Am and American record for the women's high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 10 inches.

The old Pan-Am record had been set by Mildred McDaniel of the United States in 1955 when she hit 5-6¼. Miss McDaniel also had the American mark of 5-9¼ set in 1956 in the Tokyo Olympics.

The veteran Ralph Boston, world record holder from Nashville, Tenn., leaped 27 feet, 2½ inches in the broad jump; Tom Gage of Billings, Mont., won the hammer throw with 214-4; Earl McCulloch of Long Beach, Calif., captured the 50-kilometer or 31 mile walk in 4:26:26.8.

All were gold medal performances and Pan-Am records.

Another Pan-Am record was set by the U.S. men's 400-meter relay team, which clocked :39.1 in winning its semifinal heat. This was only one-tenth of a second off the current world record set by the U.S. quartet in the Tokyo Olympics and two-tenths off the pending mark set by a French team at Ostrava, Czechoslovakia, with 39 seconds flat last July 22.

Also, Mrs. Cherrie Sherrard of Oakland, Calif., set a Pan-Am record with a 10.9 clocking in the semifinals of the women's 80-meter hurdles. Mamie Rallins of Chicago won the first heat in 11 flat, also a record.

The United States assured itself of full representation in the rowing competition when the fours with coxswain from the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia won its repechage, or second chance, heat after losing its opening heat Thursday.

In the men's basketball, the Americans scored 14 straight points midway in the first half to open a 35-12 advantage and were never threatened.

Jo Jo White of St. Louis and Kansas University and Wes Unseld of Louisville, Ky., and Louisville University, led the American attack with 14 points each. The United States meets unbeaten Mexico Saturday night in the decisive game of the tournament.

Other top U.S. scorers were Henry Logan, Asheville, N.C., with 12 and Jim Williams, Norristown, Pa., and Kendall Rhine, Dupo, Ill., with 10 each. Al Afredo Feresin led Argentina with 12 points.

The victory was the United States' fourth without a loss in the six team round-robin.

Argentina's standings dropped to 1-3.

Regional Scrambles Will Feature South's Finest

The "Regional Motorcycle Scrambles," sponsored by the Twin City Ramblers and the Motorcycle Explorer Scouts, will get underway in Selman Field Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Motorcycle scrambles are one of the most popular and exciting types of racing today, according to David Martin, Twin City Rambler publicity manager. "The track has fast straightaways plus right and left turns and is truly a test of the rider and his machine," Martin added.

There will be four classes in Sunday's run with the engine size being the determining factor as to which class the cycle will be placed in. The classes include the 100cc, 175cc, 250cc and the Open.

The 250 class has been dominated this year by Gary Landry of Baton Rouge with James Floyd and Bobby Gamble of Shreveport close behind. However, Dub Terry of Jackson, Miss., a new resident of Monroe and Rambler member beat Landry in Jackson two weeks ago and a big grudge match is expected between the two.

David Martin of Monroe will highlight the Open Class along with a host of other riders. Martin has lost only one race this year. Joining Martin will be Alan Whitted, Monroe, James Wallace and Butch McGuffie both of Shreveport. McGuffie is formerly of Texas and is considered by many to be one of the top riders in the South. Plus R. L. Ticer of Lake Charles and Bobby Butler of Houma and many others.

The 175 class will be filled with tough competition. Among the top riders are George Robertson and Danny Jackson both of Monroe, Bobby Butler of Houma, Ben Payne of Baton Rouge and Ricky Michael of El Dorado, Ark., all are former winners of the 175 class.

The big rivalry between the north and south still prevails.

Donations are $1.00 and children under 12 will be admitted free.

DAVID MARTIN (5), of Monroe takes an early lead over James Floyd (33), of Shreveport and Ronnie Landry (17), of Baton Rouge in the 250cc Class at Rambler Raceway in Selman Field recently. All three riders will vie for top honors in this Sunday's "Scramble Run," at Selman Field which will get underway at 1:30 p.m.

Big Driver Wins Junior Golf

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Hitting drives of 250 yards, 17-year-old Candace Michaeloff of Minneapolis won the 41st annual Women's Western Junior Golf tournament Friday by defeating medalist Marsha Houghton of Modesto, Calif., 3 and 2.

Miss Michaeloff had lost a two-hole lead after the first nine only to recover with a sensational back nine. Miss Houghton, also 17, and medalist three times in the last four years, evened the match on the 11th hole with a 10-foot birdie putt. She had won the 10th hole after Miss Michaeloff committed a bogey.

Miss Michaeloff missed an eagle 2 on the par-4 13th hole and missed another eagle by 4 inches on the par-5 14th hole.

Ex-Marine Blake Believes Kicking All In Line Of Duty

(Ninth in a series of articles on Northeast State's 1967 football prospects. Next — The Schedule)

Northeast State's Clark Blake was for four years a Marine and the mark of the Corps is still upon him. He answers you "Yes Sir" and "No Sir." His posture is erect and he looks you straight in the eye.

Good Marines obey orders. Dixie White's No. 1 command to Blake has been, "Kick those extra points." He has never disobeyed that order, booting 22 through the uprights without a miss.

Blake is a little ashamed of his field goal kicking, though. He missed four last year while making seven. That's a percentage of .636 and in the field goal league, that makes Blake the equivalent of a .400 hitter.

Blake is the best known of Northeast's small corps of football specialists. Although he has seen duty as an offensive fullback and defensive cornerback and will see more this season, his most important job is place kicking — extra points, field goals, kickoffs.

Last year Blake's 22 PAT's and 7 FG's gave him 43 points, second high among Gulf States Conference totals and 12th among college division athletes in the nation in scoring by kicking alone. He set 10 school season or game records and his season FG total and game high of two FG's broke or tied GSC records. He capped the season by winning a place on the Louisiana Sports Writers Association all - GSC team as a specialist.

The oldest member of the Tribe squad at 24, Blake has an interesting background, thanks to his Marine enlistment. He was a sergeant in charge of a reconnaisance patrol in Viet Nam for four months in 1966 and had his share of close shaves in combat — like the heart - stopping moment when he felt his foot catch on the trigger wire of a Viet Cong mine. Luckily for Blake and the Northeast football team, the mine did not explode because of a defective firing device.

Clark did not kick in high school — except for a kickoff or two — but decided to start using his right foot when he came out for football at Camp Lejeune and found himself one of 280 candidates and the smallest fullback at 180. He played three years of Marine football, playing offense and defense as well as kicking, and made the all-Marine team in 1965 before going to Viet Nam. Northeast recruited him by mail, he received his discharge on Sept. 2, 1966, and three days later reported for practice. He is a health and physical education major from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

With the place kicking problem solved for three more years, Coach White and his assistants must now find a punter. The No. 1 prospect is reserve quarterback Mike Audirsch of Morgan City.

Audirsch was one of Louisiana's top schoolboy punters in 1965 when he averaged 41.9 yards a boot and made the class AA all - state team. He averaged only a disappointing 26.7 yards in the spring game but Tribe coaches are sure he is a better punter than that.

A couple of other Indians quarterbacks, Bubbie Dupont of Plaquemine and Allen Bozeman of Newellton — who averaged 37.7 yards punting in the spring game — are candidates for the job but if anybody beats out Audirsch it is likely to be a freshman. Paul Kent of Jackson, who played in the Louisiana all - star game, is considered the best prospect among the rookie punters.

Whether he punts or not, Dupont will be a busy youngster. The sophomore, smallest man on the squad at 5- 8 and 155, hauled back 18 opposition punts in '66, fielding six in one game for a conference record. With Northeast's three principal kickoff return men of last year — Dalton LeBlanc, Ronnie Fountain and Alton Thomas — having graduated, Bubbie may get some work in that department also. He should also see some action at quarterback.

Audirsch is a pre - social work major while Dupont is majoring in business administration. Both are sophomores.

CLARK BLAKE is Northeast State's place kicking specialist and Indian fans believe there's none better than this ex-Marine who booted 22-for-22 on extra points and 7-for-11 on field goals last year. He ranked 12th in the nation in scoring by kicking alone with 43 points.

Western Open

Harris Leads Pros After Two Rounds

CHICAGO (AP)—Labron Harris, never a PGA tourney winner, fired 34-34—68 for an eight-under-par 134 to grab a two-stroke lead over two veteran campaigners after 36 holes in the Western Golf Open Friday.

Hot on his trail at 136 were Julius Boros, seeking his fourth victory of the year and Dave Marr, playing his best golf since winning the National PGA in 1965.

The 47-year-old Boros methodically stroked his second straight 68 with four birdies and only one bogey and chuckled that "I don't think I'm in a rut and can do better than a 68 if I can start thinking out there."

Marr made his move with a pair of 33's for 66 with nine outputt greens. Doug Sanders charged in with 35-33—68 for a 137, and determinedly went to the practice tee to try to hold his sharpness.

Steve Oppermann, among five strong contenders bidding for a first tournament triumph, matched par 71 for 138.

Jack Nicklaus moved into a share of 11th place with 13 others at 140 with 34-34—68 as he hit every green in regulation but one.

The original field of 150 was cut to the low 75 scores and ties and it took a score of 145 to enter Saturday's third round. Among those failing were Bob Charles, Dick Mayer, Allan Henning and the 1964 winner, Chi Chi Rodriguez. Mayer aced the 125-yard 12th with a pitching wedge but a 71 left him at 147. It was the 8th hole-in-one of his career.

Bucs Top Dodgers In 10th, 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Lefebvre's two-base throwing error allowed Gene Alley to score from second with the winning run in the 10th inning as Pittsburgh edged Los Angeles 3-2 Friday night.

Alley had opened the 10th with a single and reached second when Jim Pagliaroni beat out a bunt for a hit. Pinch hitter Jose Pagan also bunted and Lefebvre, trying for the force at third, threw wild pat Dick Schofield and Alley scored.

The Dodgers tied the score 2-2 in the eighth when Pirate reliever Juan Pizarro walked pinch-hitter Jim Hickman with the bases loaded. Al Ferrara and Lou Johnson started the game with singles.

Cater's Catch Preserves A's Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Danny Cater's sensational catch with two out and the bases loaded in the eighth inning preserved Kansas City's 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees Friday night.

After the Yankees loaded the bases on two singles and a walk Bill Robinson flied deep into the left-field corner, but Cater's leaping catch against the wall in left field ended the inning.

The A's got both their runs in the third inning on two consecutive sacrifice flies. John Odom scored on a fly to right field by Cater with Bert Campaneris moving to third. Ken Harrelson then flied to centerfield with Campaneris scoring.

Odom, 3-4, gave up just four hits in the first seven innings, but gave way to Bill Stafford with two men on in the eighth.

The Yanks scored their lone run in the fourth after Joe Pepitone doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Robinson's line drive to left.

Turf Credentials On Line Today For Damascus, What A Pleasure

Damascus, leading contender for the 3-year-old title, and What A Pleasure, making a strong early bid for 2-year-old championship consideration, put their enviable credentials on the line today in the two $100,000 stakes headlining the national thoroughbred racing program.

Damascus, who counts the Preakness, Belmont Stakes, Wood Memorial and Dwyer Handicap among his six stakes triumphs, picks up top weight of 126 pounds and takes on highly rated In Reality and five others of his age in the 1⅛ miles of the American Derby at Arlington Park.

What A Pleasure, unbeaten in three starts since losing his debut, tackles eight other 2-year-olds in the six furlongs of the Sapling at Monmouth Park.

The American Derby, worth $120,000 with $75,000 to the winner on the basis of seven starters, and the Sapling, with a gross of $120,705 and $72,423 to the winner if nine start, have more than double the value of any other race on Saturday's card.

The 1⅛ miles of the $50,000-added Whitney at Saratoga, the richest of the other stakes, drew a well balanced field of eight headed by Straight Deal, winner of last Saturday's Delaware Handicap; Stupendous, first in the Arlington Handicap in his last start, and Ring Twice, who ran the great Buckpasser to a close decision in the Suburban on July 4.

Other top events included the 1 1-16 miles of the $25,000-added San Diego Handicap at Del Mar with Quicken Tree packing top-weight of 118 pounds in a field of 13; the six furlongs of the $15,000-added Bully Boy Handicap at Detroit with the entry of Royal Course and Ramblin Road heading a field of 10 and the 1 1-16 miles of the $15,000-added White Mountain Handicap with 10 entries at Rockingham Park.

Damascus and In Reality have met once this year. That was in the Preakness when Damascus prevailed by 2½ lengths. Trainer Sunshine Calvert claims, however, that In Reality was in need of more races at the time and that in the American Derby his horse will be a different runner especially since he'll carry only 120 pounds compared to 126 by Damascus.

Hoping to sidetrack the two favorites are such front running threats as Barbs Delight and Diplomat Way. Tumble Wind, winner of the Hollywood Derby, Favorable Turn and Gentleman James complete the field.

Monmouth's handicapper gave What A Pleasure no big margin in the advance odds. He quoted the Eddie Neloy-trained son of Bold Ruler at 2-1 while pegging Subpet at 5-2, Winged T at 3-1 at Iron Ruler at 7-2.

The World for WOMEN

Vows Pledged By Linda Correro, Mr. Turner At Ceremony In Jesus Good Shepherd Church

MRS. GERALD TYRONE TURNER

Vows pledged in Jesus the Good Shepherd Catholic Church united Miss Linda Katherine Correro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Correro of Monroe and Gerald Tyrone Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turner of West Monroe. The Rev. Father Edmund Moore officiated at the nuptial mass at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 3.

Arrangements of white gladioli and stock with emerald foliage stood at each side of the marble altar. Music was provided by Mrs. Robert Hill Easterling, organist, and Mrs. Waymon Etier, soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress with white Chantilly lace bodice and skirt, topped by pure silk panniers which swept into a chapel train appliqued with lace and pearl motifs. A single satin rose held her veil of illusion. The bride's bouquet was a crescent of white roses and satin streamers, entwined with a crystal and silver rosary.

Attending the bride were Miss Harriet Wadley, maid of honor; Mrs. Douglas Turner, matron of honor; Miss Mona LeBlanc and Miss Cindy McDonough, bridesmaids; and Miss Teresa Turner, sister of the bridegroom, junior bridesmaid.

Their full length Empire gowns of antique gold crepe were styled with back detailing featuring a long panel of crepe and lace. Their headdresses were variegated fabric dahlias holding tiers of gold illusion. Each attendant carried a single yellow rose and wore a cultured pearl drop, gift of the bride.

Flowergirl was Jennifer Rose Correro, sister of the bride. She wore a dress of antique gold peau de soie made on similar lines to those of the other attendants, with draped lace panel in back. On her head was a matching fabric bow and she carried a basket of multi-colored pompons.

Don West attended Mr. Turner as best man. Groomsmen-ushers were Douglas Turner, Ronald Joe Turner, and Williams Turner, brothers of the bridegroom; Richard Correro, brother of the bride; William G. Haddad, and Joseph Correro, cousins of the bride. Michael Turner carried the rings.

Mrs. Correro wore for her daughter's wedding an ensemble combining a mauve lace skirt and jacket with shell of mauve peau de soie. Her hat was a floral cluster in shades of mauve, and other accessories were white. Mrs. Turner, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a sleeveless blue linen with matching Chanel jacket. She chose blue pill box hat and white accessories. Their corsages were of pink carnations.

Mrs. David C. Rugg of Farmerville, the bride's grandmother, wore a two piece pink knit ensemble with matching pink hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

A reception at the Paragon club followed the church service. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Katie Ladart, aunt of the bride. Mrs. A. E. Fontana presided at the bride's book.

Bride and groom's cakes were served from twin round tables, covered with white cloths and garlanded with green foliage. The tiered, pillared bride's cake was cut by Mrs. C. J. Fontana and Mrs. Rose Haddad. Mrs. Ronald Joe Turner and Mrs. William Turner cut the groom's cake.

A cloth of gathered white tulle garlanded with foliage covered the tea table, which was centered with a white and gold footed compote filled with white carnations and leatherleaf. Mrs. Jasper D. Rugg of Farmerville presided at the silver punch bowl.

Rice bags were distributed to the guests by Miss Sharon Rugg and Miss Cheryl Fontana, cousins of the bride.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., Mrs. Turner was wearing a suit of white cotton lace underlined with yellow. She chose a matching yellow shell and yellow accessories. Her corsage was of white roses from her bouquet. Upon their return, they will live in Monroe.

Your Problems

Methodist Handshake Is Fine Good Night

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Your definition of a "Methodist handshake" brought back some wonderful memories.

Many years ago, when I was sweet 16, a handsome chap who was a couple of years older, asked me to go the downtown recreation center. (In those days, this was considered a very special date.)

We played table tennis, did a little imitation tap dancing, and harmonized with the piano player who had a handlebar moustache. After a strawberry soda, we waltzed to phonograph music and called it the end of a wonderful evening. He took me home on the streetcar and I was in seventh heaven.

When we reached the front door he asked if he could kiss me good night. I replied, "No. My mother wouldn't think it was very ladylike."

He looked at me in astonishment and asked, "What kind of a mother do you have, anyway?" I replied, "My mother is a Methodist." He smiled and answered, "O.K., then. Give me a Methodist handshake."

I shook his hand and shut the door. We moved away shortly after that and I never saw him again, but I will always remember that wonderful "Methodist handshake." I had not heard the expression in 40 years and then it popped up in your column—so thanks, for reviving some beautiful memories. — OHIO

Dear Ohio: Thank you for a delightful letter. If more 1967 evenings ended with a Methodist handshake my mail would be a lot lighter.

Give in or lose him. . .when a guy gives you this line, look out! For tips on how to handle the super sex salesman, check Ann Landers. Read her booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of Monroe Morning World, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Monroe Morning World, enclosing a self - addressed, stamped envelope.

THIS NINE-FOOT anchor, displayed Friday at the Smithsonian Institution, was recovered from the Union warship Tecumseh which was sunk 103 years ago in waters of Mobile Bay. Col John H. Magruder III, director of the National Armed Forces Museum Advisory Board, stands at right as he explains to reporters efforts being made to raise the Tecumseh which was sunk by a Confederate mine during the Battle of Mobile Bay in the Civil War. (AP Wirephoto)

Tecumseh May Be Salvaged Says U.S. Navy Spokesman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy and Smithsonian Institution officials voiced hope Friday that they will be able to raise intact the Union warship Tecumseh, sunk in the waters of Alabama's Mobile Bay just 103 years ago.

But they said months more study will be needed to devise an engineering plan aimed at bringing up the Civil War craft.

"I'd be surprised if the Tecumseh broke water within two years," said Marine Col. John H. Magruder III, director of the Smithsonian's national armed forces museum advisory board. The hope is to raise the ship and display her at the proposed museum here.

The coroded and mud-encrusted anchor of the Tecumseh was displayed at a news conference where officials discussed salvage plans. They said wardroom dinnerware also was brought up by a diver and that it is excellently preserved.

Tecumseh, one of the Navy's first iron ships, struck a Confederate mine on Aug. 5, 1864, and sank within a minute, carrying some 93 of her crew with her.

She was leading wooden warships through a minefield into the bay. After she sank, Adm. David Farragut is credited with exclaiming, "D the torpedoes, full speed ahead." The Union won the battle later that day.

Magruder said the salvage project is of historic importance because the Tecumseh was fully equipped and battle-ready when she went down.

Capt. Willard F. Searle Jr., the Navy's supervisor of salvage, said an effort will be made to pump out the mud and water, compartment by compartment, so that loose artifacts can be identified with their proper locations.

Searle said the Tecumseh is about the size of a World War II destroyer, 225 feet long and with a displacement of 2,100 tons.

Divers found her rudder in port—left—turn position. This accords with the last command given by her captain, Cmdr. Tunis A. M. Craven, as reported by the pilot, John Collins, who survived. Magruder said this testifies that it was Craven's decision to head directly toward the Confederate ironclad Tennessee.

There has been some debate whether Tecumseh struck a mine or was sunk by Confederate guns at Ft. Morgan, guarding the entrance to Mobile Bay.

Divers found clear evidence that she struck a mine, Macgruder said. On the starboard side of the hull well below the original water line is a depressed area 12 feet long and 6 feet wide, Magruder said, and several seams were found ruptured and one plate bent inward by the force of an explosion.

Local Firm Moves To New Site

First Finance and Thrift has moved to an ultra modern building at Sixth Street and Louisville Avenue, it was announced Friday by Stan Bagwell, the firm's president.

In making the announcement, Bagwell said, "Our new facility, which not only provides more space, parking area and other advantages, contributes to our city's and this area's new image of progress. Our building was designed to be in keeping with the "Pacemaker" look of Monroe, with our new Civic Center, City Hall, airport and other improvements.

"Complete landscaping is a part of the plan and will provide greenery and in-season flowers on a rotating basis. The architect is Prent Seymour."

First Finance was founded in June, 1965 to provide personal, automobile and real estate loans, installment sales contracts and factoring. Bagwell, who returned to Monroe in 1951 after graduating from the University of Alabama, has had 16 years' experience in the finance business.

Sign Erected To Signify ALERT City

A sign has been erected in front of the West Monroe City Hall, designating the city as a participant in the ALERT program.

The sign reads: "West Monroe, an ALERT City." Listed are the program committees of Housing and Construction, Health and Sanitation, Fire Protection, Beautification, Education, Long Range Planning, Municipal Finance, Police and Traffic, Recreation, and Streets.

Municipalities participating in the state - wide ALERT program are entitled to purchase the signs. The West Monroe program is co - sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council.

Each of the committees grades the city on its particular subject. The grading is done to inform city officials of weaknesses according to the ALERT scale.

Once a committee reaches ALERT status by scoring a certain number of points, as determined by the Louisiana State Chamber of Commerce, a gold star will be placed on the sign beside the committee's name.

Arab Ministers Call For Summit

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—Arab foreign ministers meeting here have decided to recommend an Arab summit meeting, Prime Minister Mohammed Mahgoub of Sudan reported Friday night.

He said Sudan has been appointed to draw up an agenda and draft a communique to be placed before the foreign ministers Saturday.

The decision came after five days of sometimes stormy deliberations by the foreign ministers of 13 Arab states and followed an offer by Egypt to solve its long dispute with Saudi Arabia over Yemen.

Mahgoub reported a reply to the Egyptian offer has been received from Saudi Arabia but another still is awaited.

He would not elaborate but apparently the Saudi response was sufficiently encouraging to enable delegates to go ahead with their recommendation for a summit session to consider what to do about the Arab defeat in the June war with Israel.

Egypt has offered to implement the 1965 Jeddah agreement signed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser and King Faisal providing for phased withdrawal of Egyptian troops who have been supporting the Yemeni republican regime against Saudi-backed royalist rebels.

Delegates emerged from Khartoum's elegant old Republican Palace chatting amicably but refusing to speak to newsmen.

Dr. Mahgoub, appointed spokesman of the conference, made a statement.

The conference is unlikely to come up with any other major recommendations apart from the convening of the summit. No date for the heads of state meeting was announced and neither was a site.

Avowed purpose of the Arab summit is to "eliminate the results of Israeli aggression."

Most of the five-day meeting in Khartoum, however, has been taken up with resolving internal Arab wrangles and little time has been spent on working out measures to combat the victorious Israelis. The foreign ministers are expected to leave that has emerged, nevertheless, is a measure of moderation and reconciliation. Hotheads like Ahmed Shukeiry, president of the Palestine Liberation Organization, have been soundly slapped down. Tunisia has taken the lead in advising the Arab states to blame themselves for recent military and political disasters rather than at the United States and other Western countries.

When the foreign ministers went into their session Friday it was apparent a decision for a summit depended upon the Saudi response to the Egyptian offer on Yemen.

Without a satisfactory reply being received the necessary atmosphere would never have been achieved and a summit would probably have merely aggravated existing differences.

AN UNIDENTIFIED anti - draft picket goes to his knees and a draftee who had reported to the induction center on Chicago's Van Buren St. aims a kick at him Friday as the draftees suddenly attacked the pickets. Other pickets carrying anti-draft signs are in the background. (AP Wirephoto)

UAW Calling Chrysler Locals To Big Meeting

DETROIT (AP) — In a move aimed at forestalling localized strikes over at-the-plant issues, the United Auto Workers Union is calling the leaders of its Chrysler locals across the country to Detroit next week.

National contract negotiations at Chrysler will be recessed from Monday through Wednesday for union meetings with about 150 representatives of 70 Chrysler bargaining units.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler director, said a primary purpose will be to discuss with local leaders at-the-plant issues and decide which, if any, should be moved to the national bargaining table for decision.

Local working agreements supplement national contracts at Chrysler, General Motors and Ford, which expire Sept. 6.

In 1964 localized strikes crippled both General Motors and Ford after agreements had been reached on a national contract.

Chrysler was first to come to terms three years ago on a new national pact. It carried, among other things, possible retirement at age 60 on $400 a month. Chrysler was not disturbed at the local level.

Fraser said the newly called Detroit conference would serve to keep Chrysler's 95,000 UAW members better informed on what is happening in national bargaining.

Local working agreements supplement national contracts at Chrysler, General Motors and Ford, which expire Sept. 6.

Both the union and company expressed concern about the number of issues still unresolved at the plant level.

Representatives of UAW skilled tradesmen, meanwhile, planned a demonstration Aug. 23 to emphasize their demands for a wage increase substantially above any general increase carried by new contracts.

Christopher Manning, president of UAW Local 160, said the site of the demonstration had not yet been chosen, but that the turnout would "let the top (UAW) people know we are still concerned."

Pressed by its tradesmen, the UAW tried unsuccessfully last summer to win contract reopening to gain them an immediate increase. It later promised to win "a substantial increase" for the skilled in new contracts.

Committee Meet Slated Monday

The West Monroe Chamber of Commerce's Education Committee of the city's ALERT program will meet at 8:30 a.m. Monday in the Chamber offices, according to Chairman Bill Norris III

Results of the committee's grading and individual reports will be given at the meeting.

The committee is subdivided under six headings: financial support of schools, school facilities, administration, program of studies, accreditation and public libraries.

Draftees Attack Peaceniks

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of draftees charged out of a Selective Service induction center at 615 W. Van Buren St., today and attacked some 50 chanting, sign-carrying antiwar pickets.

Reporters present said the pickets were slugged and kicked, their signs shredded and their handout literature scattered. None apparently was injured seriously, although some were bloodied in the five-minute melee.

Several squads of police appeared as the fracas ended. The policemen usually stationed at the induction center entrance were not there.

Reporters were on hand because of advance notice of picketing from Chicago Area Draft Resisters (CADRE).

Gary Rader, 23, who said he is an organizer of CADRE, told reporters his organization is "non-violent" and that "no effort was made to resist" the attack by draftees. Demonstrators resumed picketing but their numbers dwindled to about a dozen.

Businessman Wiped Out By Riot Takes Own Life

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Hansel Greene, Negro businessman, was vitually wiped out by the fire which accompanied Negro rioting in Cambridge last week.

A friend said Greene had been despondent since the fire, and quoted him as saying Thursday: "I never thought this would happen to me. I tried to be nice to everybody."

Friday, the 58-year-old Greene was found shot through the heart. The coroner said it was suicide.

The fire broke out the night of July 24, several hours after H. Rap Brown, Negro militant, told a Cambridge street rally: "Black folks built America and if America don't come around we're going to burn America down."

The fire burned through two blocks of the 2nd Ward, where most of the 4,000 Negroes in this city of 13,000 live.

Green's motel and his combination tavern-dance hall-poolroom were among the buildings destroyed. He also lost two other buildings he owned, occupied by a barbership and a cleaning establishment.

Standing sobbing amid the ruins of his motel, Greene said:

"I'm broke, I'm beat, and my own peple did it. It's all gone because of a bunch of hoodlums. I spent a lifetime building this up, and now it's all gone."

Greene, also a partner in a mortuary, had talked of rebuilding the tavern-poolroom and forgetting the motel.

On Thursday, the Cambridge Daily Banner turned over to Greene a check for $10 sent by a Blue Point, Pa., couple which had read of his plight.

Greene's wife, Lena, found his body on a sofa in the den of their pink stucco home. She recalled that "he couldn't sleep all night."

She telephoned Charles Cornish, Negro president of the Cambridge City Council, and said: "Come out here. Something's happened to Hansel."

Greene's brother, William "Sweetheart" Greene, lost his grocery store in the same fire. He is disabled and his wife and grown sons ran the place.

"We don't want outsiders coming into our community to preach hate. The responsible Negroes in Cambridge denounce the Black Action Federation and Black Power."

Plane Mishap Hurts 22 Aboard

ROME (AP) — A Caravelle jet on a flight from Paris to Beirut, Lebanon, took a 3,000-foot plunge in an air current over the Alps Friday night and 22 passengers were injured.

The Air France twin-engine plane made a refueling stop at Rome's Fiumicino Airport and disembarked the injured passengers, who were taken to Rome hospitals.

Airport authorities said the plane made a normal landing and no outside damage had been discovered.

They said the plane radioed the control tower the accident occurred after passing Europe's highest summit, Mt. Blanc, in stormy weather.

The plane, with 61 passengers, was buffeted by raging winds and snow gales. Ambulances with doctors waited as the plane touched down at dusk in Rome's sweltering heat. Some of the injured were carried away on stretchers while others were helped down the stairs from the cabin.

Dr. Peter J. Steincrohn

Dear Dr. Steincohn: I am 38 years old, am 6 feet 3 inches and weigh about 200 pounds. I am apparently in excellent physical condition, however I have never felt as though I have had a good complete physical examination.

I am a believer in preventing trouble before it gets a head start. What do you think a good physical should consist of at my age? — Mr. B.

Comment: Being especially interested in preventive medicine, I have discussed complete physicals here many times. But I am sure that there are still many readers who wonder, as does Mr. B., what consitutes a good physical examinaiton. It is important enough to bear repetition.

First, it's especially necessary to choose a physican who is interested in giving such examinations. Not all doctors are. Your local medical society or hospital will give you lists of internists or general medical practitioners who set aside sufficient time for such examinations.

ALLOW AMPLE TIME

I'll repeat the important word TIME. For without it, the best doctor can't perform an adequate physical examination. It takes anywhere from 1-2 hours at the first visit.

Much of this period is taken up with history - taking. Your doctor will ask you numerous questions and give you ample time to ask questions. This confrontation will be unhurried and your doctor will not seem to be impatient to be somewhere else.

After the history-taking, he will begin his examination. He will carefully examine you from the proverbial head to toe.

In addition to the use of his stethoscope, he will take your blood pressure; look into the back of your eyes with an opthalmoscope; examine the rectum wtih a long, lighted tube called a sigmoidoscope; also with gloved finger: do a pelvic examination, if the patient is a woman, and routinely perform a Pap test to rule out malignancy of the uterus.

Electrocardiograms, routine blood tests, x-rays and fluoroscopic examinations will just about complete the examination.

Now you can understand why I kept stressing that an adequate physical requires time and patience. You can't even hope to have a good physical in 15-30 minutes (which some readers say is all the time it took).

DON'T BE SHOCKED

And now you know why it often costs so much. If your doctor become suspicious that there may be trouble in your gall bladder or in your stomach or intestines, there is the further likelihood of more x-rays.

It is for these reasons that I suggest it is advisable to talk fees with your doctor. He will welcome such a discussion. He will tell you how much the routine first examination will cost, and about how much other special x-rays examinations will fatten the expenses.

Not every routine physical checkup turns out to be very expensive. But it is better for all-around good relations between patient and doctor if the bill does not come as a shocking surprise.

Although not all persons are preventive - medicine - minded, and many hate to spend money "needlessly," I know of no cheaper premium to pay for maintenance of health and life than routine checkups.

Whatever the disease, it hates early recognition. For the sooner we know what it is, the quicker we can erdicate it.

Dr. Steincrohn is sorry he canwer readers' letters. Nevertheless, all questions of general interest are answered in later columns.

Study Says U.S. Ahead Of Russians

LONDON (UPI)—The United States has surpassed the Soviet Union in almost every field of world power politics, according to a survey published Friday by the Institute for Strategic Studies.

It said the men in the Kremlin will have to take a hard look at Soviet policies, particularly in view of the growing threat from Communist China.

"She (Russia) has been outmatched by her great opponent (the United States) on almost every level of international politics, be it in terms of economic, military, political or scientific influence," the ISS survey said.

The Institute, a private organization with close ties to the British government, assembles and evaluates military, political and economic data on world affairs. Its reports are given great weight in London, Washington, Paris and Moscow as well as other capitals.

The study predicted that the Soviet Union will lose more than the United States once Communist China has established itself as a great power in its own right.

Democratic Committee To Meet

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet today in Baton Rouge to issue the call for state officers in the November 4 primary.

Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and Rep. Lawrence Gibbs are Ouachita Parish members of the 105 - man committee scheduled to meet at 1 p.m. in the house chamber of the state capitol.

The Ouachita Parish Democratic Executive Committee will meet either the 14th or 15th to issue the call for parish and ward officers, according to chairman Burt Sperry.

State candidates will have seven days, until August 12 to qualify with the State Central Committee. Parish candidates will have 10 days to qualify after the parish committee meets.

Heading the parish political race will be opposition for the three seats in the Louisiana House. Ouachita Parish presently has two House seats but legislative reapportionment in 1966 added a third seat which becomes effective with the gubernatorial primary November 4.

Candidates in Ouachita Parish for state senator must qualify before the district committee which is composed of state committee members from the parishes of Ouachita, Morehouse, East and West Carroll.

There are 105 members on the state committee, corresponding with the number of state representatives. Chairman is Edward Carmouche of Lake Charles, replacing C. H. (Sammy) Downs of Alexandria who quit to become a full time supporter of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace for president. Downs has since returned to his more customary position as an assistant to Gov. John McKeithen.

How Public Relations Works Told

"Confusion about what public relations is can be clarified if the term is restricted to describing the planned effort to influence opinion through acceptable performance and two way communications."

This was a statement made and explained by Ezra Adams, public relations representative for the Bastrop and Louisiana Mills of International Paper Company in Bastrop, when he spoke to members of the Northeast Louisiana Chapter of the Louisiana Surveyors Association here Friday night.

He was introduced by Stan Huey, program chairman for the group's first quarterly meeting attended by wives of members.

Ernest Brodnax of Bastrop is president of the chapter.

Adams spoke on the topic "Organizational Public Relations."

He explained that "public relations is confusing to many people because of the semantics problem."

He told his listeners that "organizational public relations undertakes three steps: one, to attract attention; two, to win belief; three, to impart understanding.

"These steps are taken to reach a goal, namely, to convince people that they should adopt a certain attitude or pursue a certain course of action."

The PR specialist said, "Every professional association is potentially a public relations vehicle. It exists to deal with peoples ideas and attitudes.

"It is effective and deisrable to the extent that it is able to help its profession cope with the economic, social and political forces that shape the environment in which its members must conduct their affairs.

"As the individual businessman and professional man find their lives shaped by the pressures of public opinion, they have been turning in increasing numbers to their associations for help.

"As a result, associations are playing an increasingly impressive role in our society. They have grown steadily in influence.

"In recent years, associations have discovered how to organize for, and to use, professional public relations, and as a result has been a great new force on the American scene."

Court Halts Svetlana's Publication

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A West German court issued a temporary injunction Friday to prevent the weekly magazine Stern from publishing the memoirs of Svetlana Alliluyeva, daughter of Joseph Stalin.

The magazine had announced earlier Friday that it would publish in its next edition, out Monday, excerpts from what is purported to be the original 307-page manuscript. It said it had obtained the manuscript from Soviet sources.

The injunction was requested by the news magazine Der Spiegel, which told the court it had paid $120,000 to Mrs. Alliluyeva for exclusive West German rights to publish her memoirs.

Mrs. Alliluyeva, now living in the United States, went to court in Britain earlier this week and obtained an injunction to bar unauthorized publication of her memoirs by London publisher Alex Flegon.

Flegon has declined to say where he obtained his copy of the memoirs.

The authorized English-language version of the memoirs, entitled "Twenty Letters to a Friend," is scheduled for publication in the United States, Britain and elsewhere in October. A limited, Russian-language edition came out in Britain Wednesday, apparently for legal copyright reasons.

Born on this day in 1608 was the Dutch painter, Rembrandt.

On this day in history:

A thought for the day: Roman playwright Terence once said: "The quarrels of lovers are the renewal of love."
